LATER FROM INDIA AND AUSTRALIA.

Cotton Advanced—Breadstuffs Firm—Consols 96 1-2.

The screw-steamship New-York, Captain VON SANTEN, from Southampton, March 22, arrived at this port yesterday morning.

The steamship Canada arrived at Liverpool Monday morning, March 21.

The Canada had on board the crew and passengers of the brig Agnes, of Glasgow, which sank on the 19th after collision with the Persia.

The Favorite, from New-Orleans, and Queen of the Lakes, from Charleston, arrived at Liverpool March 20.

The Amazon, from New-Orleans, arrived, on March 20, at Gravesend.

The Gibraltar Chronicle, of the 11th March, reports American ship Hope, Captain MERWILL, nine days from Leghorn, with cargo of marble for New-York, ashore off River Palmores.

The Royal Mail steamer Magdalena, from the West Indies, which arrived at Southampton March 20 brought home Captain LAING, of the British bark Ithuriel, of Liverpool, which vessel, laden with a general cargo from New-York, foundered in the Gulf.

The political intelligence by this arrival encourages the expectation of a peaceful solution of the Italian question.

THE QUESTION OF WAR.

A More Cheerful Look—A Congress Proposed—Effect on the Money Markets—Movements of Austria—State of Affairs in Italy.

VIEWS AT PARIS AND LONDON.

According to the Paris correspondence of the Times, matters are looking brighter, both Austria and France appear more inclined towards a pacific solution of the present difficulties than previous to Lord COWLEY's mission to Vienna. It is certain that the force which Austria now has in Lombardy is more imposing than what people generally thought, though it was known to be great; and that, in case of a hostile move on the part of France, she would withdraw her forces from the other parts of the Empire, and pour them all into Lombardy.

The five Powers have agreed to a Congress, but the basis and the extent of the discussions are not decided upon. It will be held in a neutral city, and the Hague is mentioned as the place.

A letter in the Morning Herald, dated Paris, Saturday evening, March 19, says:

"An impression prevails to-day that a peaceful solution of the Italian question is not to be entirely despaired of. It is said that M. DE BUOL has published another circular, expressing the willingness of the Austrian Government to submit all the points in which difficulties have arisen between France and itself to the decision of a Congress. The article of the Morning Herald of yesterday, and the fact of a telegram from London having announced a rise of ⅝ in Consols, have strengthened the hopes of peace, the fulfilment of which is so ardently desired. In the opinion, however, of all well-informed people, the best security against a war is the unanimity with which all classes in France oppose it. The French Government have collected an army in the south. Piedmont has marched all its regular forces, swelled by volunteers and distant garrisons, and reserves raked up from every corner of the kingdom, to the frontiers, a few miles beyond which the Austrians are accumulating a force sufficiently large to swallow up Sardinia and its army at one mouthful. But public opinion in France and England has so unmistakably pronounced itself against going to war on so futile a pretext as the Italian question, that in some quarters well-informed people begin to think that, notwithstanding all those preparations, the Government will shrink from disregarding the veto so unanimously expressed. I regret to say that I see no reason to share this belief."

The Paris correspondent of the Times says:

"Matters are looking brighter; both Austria and France appear more inclined towards a pacific solution of the present difficulty than previous to Lord COWLEY's mission to Vienna. It is certain that the force which Austria now has in Lombardy is more imposing than what people generally thought, though it was known to be great, and that, in case of a hostile move on the part of France, she would withdraw her forces from the other parts of the Empire and pour them all into Lombardy."

The Times City Article, March 21, says:

"The announcement in the Correspondence from Paris that the Emperor, having been informed of the ultimate resolutions of Austria, desires to recede, by diplomatic help, from his aggressive attitude, gave a general impulse to prices, which would probably have been still greater but for the question as to the way in which Sardinia is likely to submit to her disappointment. Should she be determined not to tolerate her desertion, she has the power at any moment to upset the best efforts of her peacemakers, while, on the other hand, supposing her to remain quiet, the inference will be unavoidable that she has been calmed by a promise that the change, of course, will be merely temporary, until some new and less transparent pretext for war can be manufactured. Hence, until some actual reduction of armaments is witnessed, the public will not be drawn into any unhesitating manifestations of confidence."

About £12,000 in bar gold was taken from the Bank on Saturday, March 19, for the Continent.

The Times' City Article of March 22 says:

"The anouncement of the forthcoming Congress in London or Berlin, for the adjustment of the affairs of Italy, fulfilled the hopes entertained in the Stock Market on Saturday, and caused the funds to open this morning at a fresh improvement of a quarter per cent., which would probably have been followed by an additional rise during the day but for the fact of the accounts from the Paris Bourse not yet showing any very decided recovery of confidence. A slight increase in the demand for money also checked the buoyant tendency. Consols opened at 96⅜@½, and finally stood at that price for money and account, after some minor fluctuations. French Rentes are quoted 65f. 65c."

MOVEMENTS OF AUSTRIA.

A Vienna despatch to the London Times, dated March 19, says: "Within the last few hours things have assumed a much more favorable appearance. Both France and Austria display a more concilitory spirit. It is stated that there is to be a Congress in some neutral place."

A Vienna correspondent writes: "Under all circumstances, as regards Italy, the danger is passing off for the present. It is a great point that the Emperor NAPOLEON seems well disposed, and so long as he remains so, he has a right to be judged favorably."

The Ost Deutche Post, of March 20, on the other hand, warns the public not to place too much confidence in peaceful reports, and says that it is very doubtful whether a Congress of European Powers will be convoked.

The Imperial Law Gazette of Vienna, March 19, contains a decree prohibiting the exportation of arms, gunpowder and sulphur to the Italian States.

The Daily News says: "The last Austrian circular is said to have been written throughout by Prince METTERNICH.

The Emperor of Austria, a correspondent of the Standard writes, personally continues as bent upon war as ever. To imagine his exercising any very powerful influence in these matters would be, however, erroneous. A state of languid indifference, which has been gradually creeping over the young and chivalrous sovereign for years, now too often interrupts his wonted labors, frequently paralyzing all attempts at active exertion. The stronger his mental excitement for days and hours—and strong it naturally often has been during the last months—the greater the succeeding depression. It is commonly believed here that no earthly power will be capable of keeping him back from approaching the scene of action should war break out. His battle-steeds have been trained within the last few days, so as to accustom them to the report of musketry and the mixed roar of the combat. Amidst the bustle and activity of all these preparations, the Archduchess SOPHIA, mother of the Emperor, and sister to the Queen of Prussia, has regained the ascendancy she formerly possessed over the mind of her sickly son. And well it is for this Empire, under existing circumstances, to have its destinies mainly vested in the hands of so eminently clever and spirited a Princess.

A letter dated Vienna, March 18, says:

"It is reported in Lombardy, and the rumor is repeated by the Italians in this city, that there is to be a general rising in Central Italy on or about the 23d of this month. Should the revolutionists assemble in force in Parma or Modena, and endeavor to overthrow the existing order of things, the chances are that the Austrian government will send a flying corps against them, with orders to retire immediately after having struck a heavy blow.

"The Emperor will soon leave for Verona, as he is resolved to see with his own eyes the condition of the army which is now concentrated in Lombardy and Venice. Some of his Majesty's saddle-horses were sent from Vienna yesterday, and a part of the Court Gendarmerie has received orders to be prepared to go to Italy. The day before yesterday no fewer than 100 heavy guns were conveyed from the Leopoldstadt to the terminus of the Southern Railroad. Persons who saw them taken across the bridge state that there was an extra carriage to each cannon. Yesterday a tremendously long train left Matzleinsdorf, the first station on the Southern Railroad, with ammunition. 'All the vans,' says an eyewitness, 'were filled with cannon-balls, shells, rockets, &c.' The fourth battalions of the regiments in Italy and in Vienna are already under arms, and a fifth, or dépôt battalion (two companies) is being formed. The army now in the Lombardo-Venetian kingdom and in the Papal Legations consists of about 140,000 men, (22,000 men belonging to Italian regiments have been removed to Bohemia,) but by the middle of April it will be 200,000 strong."

SARDINIA AND ITALY.

What is true of the preparations in Austria, is true also of the preparations on the part of Sardinia. A letter from Turin, dated March 18, says:

"Preparations here are not neglected. On the contrary, they are carried to an extent that can be accounted for only by a presumed profound conviction—not to say a complete certainty—on the part of this Government, that war is at hand. One daily sees and hears of military movements, all in the direction of the frontier. A number of pontoons were sent off yesterday; three batteries of artillery left this morning.

I am informed that the artillery at the Venaria, an artillery dépôt not far from Turin, is under orders to move; the garrison of Turin is under orders to march eastward, and the military service of the city will be performed by the National Guards. In conformity with the law recently passed, a selection is being made from these for the purpose of mobilization, which means that those who can best be spared from their homes, single men, and those fitted for such duty, will be sent to furnish garrisons at points whence it is intended to withdraw the regulars.

In short, according to all appearance, every trained soldier that Piedmont possesses, with the exception of sick, and perhaps of a small detachment here and there, will soon be in the vicinity of this frontier. The artillery that left this morning, commanded by Major FENOVA DI REVEL, a Deputy, goes to the neighborhood of Alessandria, which place is full of troops. General CIALDINI has betaken himself to Cuneo, to organize the volunteers there assembled into some sort of legions—no very pleasant task—but one which that officer, who has had considerable experience in several services, is doubtless extremely well qualified to perform."

A dispatch dated at Geneva, March 18, says:

"Volunteers from Tuscany continue to arrive in companies of twenty. The authorities of Tuscany permit their departure.

Numerous arrests have taken place in Modena, Parma, Placentia and Leghorn. A vast conspiracy has, it is said, been discovered in those provinces, which was to lead to a general insurrection about the end of this month. The persons most seriously compromised, although they do not belong to Austria, have been sent to the prisons of the Tyrol."

The Paris papers contain the following:

"If credit can be given to letters from Italy, the fortresses of that peninsula are by this time completely armed. At Verona, Peschiera and Lugnano, the number of guns has, it is said, been doubled. The repairs that had been undertaken to the fortifications of Placentia and Venice have been completed, and ten batteries of artillery were to be sent there by the most rapid conveyance. On the other hand, a conspiracy is said to have been discovered in the Duchies of Parma and Modena, where foreign occupation, as is well known, is not much liked. This conspiracy, the wires of which extended into Tuscany and as far as Naples, had for its object a general rising, which was to take place at the end of this month. The Government of Parma is said to have made the discovery, and to have immediately sent notice of it to the Court of Vienna."

A letter from Parma announces an unpleasant fact. The Government having heard a few days since that some soldiers were about to desert to Piedmont, determined to make a severe example. Orders were given to strictly guard the frontiers, and three deserters were captured. They were tried by court-martial and sentenced to be shot. The sentence was executed in presence of the troops assembled for the purpose, and commanded by the general. During the execution some shots were fired at the general, which fortunately did not strike him.

According to advices from Rome to the 17th, Gen. GRAMMONT has again received a note from Cardinal ANTONELLI, requesting the immediate evacuation of the States of the Church by the French troops.

It is asserted that France intends to protest against the construction of fortifications by the Austrians in Placenza.

ATTITUDE OF RUSSIA.

A correspondent of the London Times, writing from Vienna March 18, says:

"The information received from St. Petersburg relative to the intentions of the Russian Government is satisfactory. Russia, who gives her support to Prussia and England in their endeavors to maintain peace, will remain strictly neutral should there be a war in Italy. If, however, the Emperor of the French should attack Germany, Russia will make common cause with the latter. The foregoing intelligence is from a good source, and in all probabililty it is correct."

The Sardinian Minister for Foreign Affairs, it is reported by another letter-writer, received the following intelligence by telegram on the 11th: "A hundred thousand Russians are marching towards the Pruth; 120,000 Russians are marching towards the frontier of Hungary; 75,000 Austrians are descending into Lombardy, to reinforce the army in Italy; and the families of the Austrian officers in Lombardy are advised to withdraw into the fortresses of Verona and Marghera."

The Mission of Lord Cowley—Its Purport and Result.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times writes on Sunday, March 20:

"I cannot omit noticing a letter from Vienna, of the 16th inst., which appears in the Mémorial Diplomatique, a new weekly paper, edited by one of the ablest political writers of the Paris Press, M. CUCHEVAL CLARIGNY. The letter I allude to confirms certain details which I have already noticed, and which I have reason to believe came to the Mémorial Diplomatique from an excellent source. They coincide in great measure with what I have learned in other quarters. Respecting the conference between Lord COWLEY and Count BUOL, at Vienna, the correspondent says:

'The leading topic was Italy. The most delicate question—the occupation of the Legations—had previously passed, and was almost resolved diplomatically. It was known that France and Austria were equally disposed to withdraw their troops so soon as a demand to that effect should officially be addressed to them by the Holy See. It was well known that this demand was on the point of being presented to Paris by Cardinal ANTONELLI, as it was, in fact, on the 22d of May last. This point, therefore, was completely settled. The question of reforms came next. Lord COWLEY alleged that the amelioration of the internal government of the Roman, as in the other States of Italy, would present the best guarantee for future tranquility. Count BUOL, while sharing this opinion, maintained that the indispensable conditions of progress of this kind would be the cessation of the provocatives of Piedmontese policy, and the proof that England shared this opinion is found in the dispatch recently communicated to M. CAVOUR on the part of the English Cabinet. Passing next to the particular treaties existing between Austria and the divers Italian States, Lord COWLEY did not dispute the right of the Vienna Cabinet to decline all discussion of the principle of the validity and character of those treaties. He even admitted that in a practical point of view the treaties with Tuscany, Parma, and Modena might be more than useful at the moment M. CAVOUR sought to shelter himself under the eyes of France.

'It is not merely a respite which is wanting,' observed the Moniteur in its article of the 5th, 'it is security for the future.' Relying on this declaration, Count BUOL and Lord COWLEY could not but ask themselves where could this security be found with the provocations of Piedmont before them? Could the Cabinet of Turin, sheltering itself under the goodwill of France, continue that system which imposes on Austria and on every one else so many sacrifices? Or shall France use its right acquired by its defensive alliance to bring back the Government of Piedmont to more prudent principles? The resignation of Prince NAPOLEON was hailed as a favorable sign. But for peace there was wanting the assurance of Piedmont that she contemplates nothing against either Austria or her allies. The armaments must cease, and the policy of the Turin Cabinet must change. To those categorical declarations, Count BUOL joined the assurance of the most conciliating disposition and the most sincere desire to come to an understanding. I can even assure you that in consequence of these explanations the Cabinet of St. James' and Berlin have placed the Sardinian Cabinet in a position to give explanations touching the positive grievances it may have against Austria. The dispatch of the 25th, from Count BUOL to Count APPONY, has been regarded by every one as a sufficient evidence on the part of Austria of her love for peace and of her firm resolution to abstain from every aggressive measure.

As for the Danubian Principalities, which closed this confidential and friendly explanation with Lord COWLEY. Count BUOL limited himself to declaring that Austria should abstain from aiding in any violation of the treaties which have regulated the condition of these Principalities. This proof of prudence, moderation and conciliation was appreciated as it ought to be by the British Ambassador.

You see, from what is here stated, that the accord which already existed between England and Austria on the different questions, before the mission of Lord COWLEY, cannot now become otherwise than more intimate and more solid. It now remains to be seen to what extent the Cabinet of Turin will associate itself in it. Everything depends on that. We may be permitted to believe that the high wisdom of the Emperor NAPOLEON will soon correspond to the general expectation, and in a satisfactory manner.'"

GREAT BRITAIN.

In the House of Commons, Monday, March 21, on the order for the second reading of the Representation of the People bill, moved by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Lord J. RUSSELL moved, as an amendment, a resolution "That it is neither just nor politic to interfere, in the manner proposed in this bill, with the freehold franchise as hitherto exercised in the counties in England and Wales; and that no readjustment of the franchise will satisfy this House or the country which does not provide for a greater extension of the suffrage in cities and boroughs than is contemplated in the present measure."

After much discussion the debate was adjourned till March 22.

A large meeting of the workingmen of the metropolis was held in Hyde Park for the purpose of opposing the Government Reform bill.

The Neapolitan exiles arrived in England March 19. A dispatch dated Bristol, Saturday evening, says: "Soon after 5 o'clock a telegram from the river's mouth announced the arrival of the Juverna in the river. The banks of the river and all the quays were crowded with a concourse of about 10,000 persons."

The Earl of DEVON died on the 19th of March, after a very short illness.

It will be remembered that when the Jury on the trial of the members of the Phœnix Club (Ireland) failed to agree upon a verdict, the Attorney-General called for a prolonged assize, to which the Judge assented, the effect of which has been the postponement of the Cork trials until the Autumn assizes.

FRANCE.

The Emperor reviewed on the 20th ult. in the Champs de Mars the entire of the Imperial Guard, consisting of two divisions of two brigades each, and one of cavalry formed of three brigades. The troops arrived at the Champs de Mars at 1 o'clock, and formed a line of battle. The infantry was drawn up in front of the Ecole Militaire, and the cavalry was turned towards Grenelle. The guard was commanded by General St. Jean d'Angely, and formed 30 battalions of infantry, 24 squadrons of cavalry, 8 battalions of artillery—altogether from 20,000 to 24,000 men. The Imperial cortège arrived at 2 o'clock, by the Avenue de Lamotte Piquet. The Emperor wore the uniform of a Lieutenant-General. He was accompanied by several Marshals and a brilliant staff. Prince JEROME likewise accompanied the Emperor. The Empress followed at a short distance in an open carriage, and had with her the Prince Imperial-dressed in the uniform of a Grenadier of the Guard—a blue coat faced with white, red epaulettes, a bear-skin cap, and the gold lace worn by a corporal. The escort was composed of the Cent Gardes. Their Majesties were loudly cheered. After having rode along the front of the line, the Emperor assembled in face of the Ecole Militaire the soldiers recommended for the Cross of the Legion of Honor and the military medal. His Majesty himself distributed the decorations, and shook hands with each man when decorated. The troops then defiled before the Emperor. After the troops had defiled past, the Emperor repaired to the Pont de Jana, and gave orders to the sentinels to allow the crowd to approach. His Majesty was immediately surrounded by an immense concourse of people, who rushed with precipitation almost under the feet of the horses, shouting with the greatest enthusiasm the cry of "Vive l'Empereur!" No accident whatever happened from this demonstration, which was quite spontaneous on the part of the rabble. An immense crowd of pedestrians was assembled on the heights of the Trocadero. The balcony of the Ecole Militaire was fitted up for the reception of the Empress and the ladies of her suite. The weather was magnificent.

The Moniteur contains a report of M. ROUHER, the Minister ad interim for Algeria. The report has been approved by the Emperor, and announces that Government will continue this year to buy from the planters of Algeria the cotton which it may require. The decree upon the report also abolishes the duty upon growers, settles the cotton prices, and promises rewards to the most skillful cultivators.

ITALY.

Letters from Tuscany state that Government has seized a pamphlet bearing the signatures of RIDOLFI, RICASOLI, PERUZZI and others, which protests against the treaties existing between Austria and the minor Italian States. The circumstance has produced considerable agitation in Tuscany, and addresses for signature, expressing the feeling of the Tuscan people, are now circulating through the country.

I have just heard, says the Times correspondent, though I cannot vouch for the fact, that the Tuscan Government has declared to France its willingness to amend its Constitution.

The King of Naples is still ill at Caserta. A second operation on his leg has been found necessary.

PRUSSIA.

A Berlin correspondent intimates the probability of an early abdication on the part of the King of Prussia. It is supposed that a political amnesty, prepared for publication at the christening of the infant Prince, will be published on the accession of WILHELM I., the future title of the Prince Regent. The Prince and Princess FREDERICK WILLIAM will be styled Crown Prince and Princess.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

FIRE.—At an early hour, yesterday morning, a row of four two-story frame buildings, on Broadway near De Kalb-avenue, were destroyed by fire. Three of the buildings were owned by Mr. BOYD, and one by Mr. MEAD CAMP. Loss $8,000, partially insured.

CHARTER ELECTION.—The Charter Election in Brooklyn, yesterday, resulted in the election of the Democratic nominees for Mayor, Comptroller, Auditor, Treasurer and Justice of the Peace for the Fifth District. Mr. POWELL, the Democratic Candidate for Mayor, is reëlected, by a majority of about 2,000. Aldermen were elected only in the odd enumerated Wards; in these the Opposition have gained enough members to have a majority in the Common Council. The Opposition Aldermen gained are JOHN CARSON, First Ward; SAMUEL H. TURNER, Seventh Ward; and TIMOTHY PERRY, in the Seventeenth Ward. The Election passed off quietly, and a small vote was polled.

At West Liberty, Ohio, March 26, the warehouse of J. M. Glover & Co. was totally consumed by fire. Loss $15,000. Insured for $5,000.

THE SICKLES TRAGEDY.

Trial of Daniel E. Sickles for the Murder of Philip Barton Key.

SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Only Three Additional Jurors Obtained.

General Sympathy for the Accused.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 5.

The panel of seventy-five jurors has been exhausted and another is ordered. Three additional jurors have been procured. Seventy-two talesmen expressed sympathy for accused, and thought they could not render an impartial verdict. The District-Attorney applied the property qualification to each one.

Mr. SICKLES exhibits evident satisfaction at the popular expression in his favor, however much he regrets the difficulty in getting a jury. The defence alone seems to be struggling to secure a jury. The prosecution having insisted on a ballot of the new panel, the defence wished to take them as they came.

The court-room is more crowded than it was yesterday,—the reporters and lawyers preponderating. Twenty-three talesmen were first called, and all but one expressed their inability to find an impartial verdict, as their sympathies were with the accused. They were set aside.

[FROM THE REPORTER FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 5.

The pressure to obtain admittance to the Criminal Court-room this morning is not so great as it was yesterday, for the reason probably that nothing is expected to be done in the Sickles case further than to obtain a Jury. The Court-room, however, is filled.

The box or cage in which prisoners have to sit, has been removed from the out-of-the-way corner in which it was yesterday, and placed right in front of the Jury, the table for the lawyers occupying the intervening space. It looks a good deal like a hencoop with a chair inside.

Much dissatisfaction has been expressed by the friends of Mr. Sickles, at subjecting him to the indignity of occupying this cage, particularly as there is nothing but the usage of this Court to justify it, and even usage has not been uniform. The District-Attorney refused to interfere in the matter, and hence the necessity of applying to the Court yesterday.

There are no ladies in the Court and no accommodations for any. There appears to be a greater desire to-day to give facilities to the reporters. The father of Mr. Sickles, and the father of Mrs. Sickles, Mr. Bagioli, occupy seats together.

Among the friends of the accused in attendance are Peter Cagger, Cornelius Tenbroeck, of Albany; Wm. Miner, Emanuel Hart, and Thomas Byrnes, of New-York; and the Hon. George Eustis, of Louisiana.

The crier opened the Court at 10:20. Some time elapsed before the prisoner was brought in.

The five jurors who were sworn yesterday were called and answered to their names.

The Judge suggested that the list of talesmen should be called in their order.

The District-Attorney preferred the adoption of the balloting system, that the names of the talesmen should be placed in a box and called as they were drawn out.

Mr. STANTON preferred the calling of the names in the order in which they appeared on the list, as defence had arranged their challenges in that way.

The Judge ordered the names to be placed in a box and called as they were drawn. While this matter was being arranged, the prisoner was conducted into Court and took his seat in the dock. He appeared calm and composed, though his features were marked with the lines of deep grief.

The Clerk then proceeded to draw the names of the talesmen.

Mr. Sickles stood in the dock, conferring with one of his counsel, as the jurors were being questioned.

The first called was George J. Johnson. He had formed or expressed an opinion in relation to the guilt or innocence of the accused; it was founded on what he had heard and read. Does not think he could form an impartial judgment. Disqualified.

Wm. Jackson had several times expressed an opinion, and does not think he could render an impartial verdict. Disqualified.

John Garrett had expressed an opinion so far that Mr. Sickles was justified in killing Mr. Key. [Sensation.] Does not know anything of the circumstances except from mere rumor.

Mr. Phillips proposed to ask the witness whether he could form an impartial verdict.

The District Attorney thought further inquiry was unnecessary.

The Judge thought so too. The witness was unquestionably disqualified.

Charles Edmundston had formed and expressed an opinion founded on mere rumor. Does not know that he could form an impartial verdict. Disqualified.

Thomas M. Potter had formed an opinion based on newspaper reports. Does not think he could render an impartial verdict. Disqualified.

George B. Bernard not being twenty-five years of age, was disqualified.

Robert B. Brooke had repeatedly expressed his opinion. It was founded partly on rumor and partly on the statement of witnesses. Disqualified.

Andrew P. Hoover, James J. Barrett, Z. D. Gilman and George Rhodes, Jr., had expressed opinions founded on rumor, and could not discharge their duty as impartial jurors. Disqualified.

B. F. Middleton had formed an opinion. His prejudices or feelings might warp his judgment in such a manner as to prevent him rendering an impartial verdict. Does not say that he could not do so.

Mr. Phillips submitted that the juror was not disqualified; he only apprehended, as a conscientious man, that his judgment might be warped.

The Judge—He is manifestly afraid to trust himself. I think he is not qualified.

James W. Sears, Francis Miller, Joseph Lawlor, Henry A. Clark, Richard W. Carter, Wm. R. Reilly, W. H. Tenny, Joseph D. Moore and Joseph W. Nairn had severally expressed opinions and could not act as impartial jurors.

James Kelly had formed an opinion founded on rumor, but believes he could render an impartial verdict. The Judge thought the juror qualified. Witness had no conscientious scruples about capital punishment, and is worth over eight hundred dollars. Mr. Kelly was sworn as juror No. 6—he resides in Washington and carries on the business of a tinner.

Elias D. White, James A. Reilly, Theodore Boucher, Thos. J. Galt, and Wm. D. Baldwin, had severally formed and expressed opinions, and could not act as impartial jurors.

The manner of most of the gentlemen questioned, in declaring that they had formed and expressed opinions, was very emphatic.

Thos. Orme called: Had formed an opinion, but did not know that his bias was such as to prevent him giving a proper verdict.

The Judge—Will you say it is not?

Witness—I would rather feel freer. Disqualified.

Samuel Duvall, Robert M. Sutton, C. C. White, Wm. Dowling, Richard H. Downs and John C. Dorrey called. Had formed opinions and could not act as impartial jurors. Some of them spoke of their opinions as being fixed, and some as being decided.

Robert W. Hoe called. Had formed an opinion, but would not say that he could not render an impartial verdict. From his present impressions he would rather be excused.

Mr. Stanton submitted that if the juror's impression would not prevent him rendering a verdict according to the weight of the evidence he would be a competent juror.

The Judge—If the juror says he can render an impartial verdict he is competent.

Mr. Stanton—The juror has not yet come to that point. I propose to ask him whether he could not render a verdict according to the evidence, irrespective of his prejudice.

Mr. Carlisle spoke against the competency of the juror.

Mr. Phillips contended that he was competent. The only test of the qualification of the juror was as to the question of his being a liber homo, free to the influence of testimony. He was understood to reply to that in the affirmative.

The Judge had not so understood the juror.

Mr. Phillips to the juror—If put upon the Jury could you render an impartial verdict, according to the evidence given in the case.

Juror—I should not like to risk it.

The Judge—I think that is a very sensible answer after what the juror has said before. Disqualified.

John H. Wilson had formed an opinion and could not act as an impartial juror. Disqualified.

Esau Pickerell had formed an opinion.

Q.—Could you form an impartial verdict on the evidence? A.—My sympathies are enlisted in favor of the prisoner. I should be very sorry, however, to think I could not render an impartial verdict. Disqualified.

Benj. F. Guy, Gilbert M. Wight, Chas. B. Church, John H. Bingham, Wm. H. Craig, Thos. J. S. Perry and Thomas Milburn had severally expressed opinions and were disqualified.

Geo. L. Sothorn had formed an opinion. It was based on a justification of the act, and was in favor of the prisoner. Disqualified.

James B. Dodson, Nathan C. McKnew, H. L. O. Hunt, Michael R. Coombs and —— Morrison, had formed opinions, and were disqualified.

John W. Dyer had formed an opinion.

Mr. Brady—When was the opinion formed?

Juror—Soon after the affair was published. My opinion refers not to the fact of the killing, but to the quality of the act itself. That opinion could not be changed. Had only read the evidence for the prosecution. Thinks if he heard the evidence on both sides he could not render a verdict according to the testimony. Disqualified.

Peter M. Bacon had expressed an opinion conditionally in conversation.

The Judge—What were the conditions?

Juror—If such and such be true, or if such and such be false, according to what I would read.

The Judge—Have you any prejudice that would influence your judgment?

Juror—None in the world. [Sworn.]

The Judge—And would your opinion prevent you from giving a just and impartial verdict?

Juror—I trust not.

The Judge—The juror is qualified.

Mr. Stanton—Whom have you conversed with?

Juror—With various persons, Mr. Ubright, the reporter, among others.

Judge—What opinion did you express?

The District-Attorney objected.

Juror—I could answer you very promptly.

Mr. Bacon was pronounced qualified.

Challenged peremptorily.

B. R. Mayfield had formed a very decided opinion as to justification of the act. Was doubtful whether he could act as an impartial juror. Disqualified.

B. B. Tucker had an opinion, and had very freely expressed it. His opinion had reference to justification of the act. It was so fixed that he thought it could not be changed. Disqualified.

Joseph T. Jenkins and John T. Gibbon answered similarly. Disqualified.

Edward Lenney had formed an opinion. Must say that his sympathies were decidedly with the prisoner.

Edward Londdy and A. F Crawford had formed opinions in reference to the quality of the act. Disqualified.

Anthony Hyde pleaded his privilege as a member of the bar. Excused.

Jonas B. Ellis had formed an opinion as to the quality of the act. Was afraid to trust himself as a juror. Disqualified.

John Moore had formed an opinion on what he had heard in reference to the killing. Could not render a fair verdict. Disqualified.

Lewis A. Newton had an opinion in regard to the circumstances of the killing, and too much bias to render an impartial verdict. Disqualified.

Alexander Minitry answered similarly. Disqualified.

Wm. C. Harper called. The impression on his mind did not amount to an opinion; had no prejudice or bias, and no conscientious scruples about capital punishment. Sworn as the seventh Juror.

Philip Hauptman had formed an opinion in reference to the act of killing. Did not think he could render an impartial verdict. His sympathies were so strong for the prisoner that he would not like to sit on the jury. Disqualified.

Henry L. Knight had formed an opinion on mere rumor. Could give a verdict according to evidence. Had no bias or conscientious scruples. Sworn as the eighth Juror. He resides in Washington and is in business as a grocer.

Wm. Galt and John W. Ott called; had formed and expressed opinions. Disqualified.

James G. Smith had formed an opinion on rumor. Did not know that he could render an impartial verdict. Disqualified.

Abraham Wheeler had formed an opinion in reference both to the act and the quality of the act. Was sorry to think he could not form a fair judgment. Had no bias or prejudice, may possibly have an impression.

Mr. Phillips contended that the juror was qualified. Every one might possibly have an impression.

The Judge thought the juror disqualified.

The juror could hardly answer whether his impressions were so strong as to warp his judgment. Disqualified.

James W. Colley had expressed an opinion very decidedly, formed from what he had read in the newspapers. The opinion relates both to the killing and the quality of the act. Might be evidence brought to make him change his opinion. Cannot say. Disqualified.

George B. Hillard had frequently and very decidedly expressed an opinion from what he had read. Was on the spot a few minutes after the occurrence, and expressed an opinion there in reference to justification of the act; would not like to say whether he could act impartially. His opinions were very strong on one side; to be removed the evidence should be altogether different from what he had read. Feelings and prejudices prevent him from being a competent juror. Disqualified.

The Judge said the juror must be perfectly unprejudiced.

Mr. Phillips desired nothing but an impartial juror.

John W. Smoot. No answer.

This exhausted the list of talesmen summoned. Only three were sworn out of the 75; these are:

6th. James Kelly, of Washington City, tinner.

7th. Wm. C. Harper, of Washington City, dry goods dealer.

8th. Henry L. Knight, of Washington City, grocer.

The District-Attorney asked the Court to direct 75 more talesmen to be summoned.

Mr. Smoot could be returned with them. He supposed the Marshal could return the list at 2½ o'clock.

Deputy-Marshal Phillips—Not to-day. We might have done so yesterday. We have to go to the County for them.

Marshal Selden said Mr. Smoot told him he was unwell, and did not think he could come. He was excused.

The Judge directed the Marshal to summon 75 talesmen for to-morrow. The list will be furnished counsel for each side this evening.

The jurors were allowed to separate with the usnal caution. The Court adjourned at 12¾ o'clock.

According to present indications the trial will occupy at least two weeks. The following are the names of the witnesses who have been summoned for the United States: Thomas Woodward, Ambrose C. Kingsland, the Hon. John B. Haskin, E. K. Albertis, William Bebee, E. W. Cone, the Hon. Hiram Walbridge, Edward C. West, Robert J. Dillon, Barney Hays, Daniel Dougherty, Jonah D. Hoover, Eugene Pendleton, Dr. Coolidge, Dr. Stone, Richard N. Downer, Francis Doyle, Thomas E. Martin, James N. Reed, Philip V. R. Van Wycke, Joseph Dudrow, Edward Delafield, Abel Upsher, Edward M. Tidball, the Hon. Richard Broadhead, the Hon. George Eustice, Cyrus McCormick, John M. Seely, Jr.; and for the defence, the following is the full list: James Ginnity, James Miller, Alexander T. Roseland, David Welsh, Thomas Langley, Joseph Edwards, William Prentiss, Frederick B. Winter, Charles Allen, Thomas Morrison, Sarah Ann Seeley, Matilda Seely, John Seely, Jr., M. P. King, Mrs. Brown, John Gray, John Cuyler, S. S. Parker, G. W. Emerson, John Thompson, Mr. Stewart, A. M. Harrison, Mr. Rapley, Mr. Forster, Mr. McGaffey, Charles Mason, Mrs. Nancy Brown, Charles William, John A. Lindon, Mr. McDonald, Frederick Wilson, J. H. McBlair.

Other witnesses may also be called on both sides, but so far, the above-named are the only ones summoned.

It is said the defence have subpœnaed their witnesses to support the theory of justification; neither Butterworth nor Woolridge is among them.

It is further stated, that the prosecution has summoned Ex-Marshal Hoover, of Washington, and Ex-Mayor Kingsland, of New-York, and others, as rebutting testimony.

A Visit to Mr. Sickles in Prison—Peculiarities and Incidents of the Trial.

From Our Own Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 4, 1859.

You have been already informed by telegraph, and with all necessary detail, of the proceedings in the Sickles' trial thus far. But little is left for me to do save to state such facts as may not be entirely uninteresting, though they do not properly come within the purview of the Court, and to record such rumors as may carry on their face some look of probability.

A friend of mine called on Mr. SICKLES, yesterday, at the prison. He found him traversing the walk that leads to the jail door, and engaged in earnest conversation with his father and the father of his unfortunate wife. The latter is a poor, weakly, heart-stricken-looking old man, but, with a spirit of heroic sacrifice that commands unbounded respect, has prostrated all the feeling of a parent in the wish to signalize his sentiments as a man. On entering the cell, my friend was greeted by two of Mr. SICKLE's most devoted and most efficient personal friends, Mr. EMANUEL B. HART and Mr. THOMAS J. BROWN. The furniture was very scanty; indeed, it could not be other than meagre, considering the dimensions of the room. But it was not without comfort. There was enough to prevent a sense of severe deprivation. Here were a few deal boxes, there a table, there a closet, there an escritoire. On the window-sill was a pile of books, and beside them were a few boxes of flowers. A rack on one of the walls contained half-a-dozen rusty muskets, whilst on the wall against which the desk is placed were hung a couple of photographs of the child LAURA. On the table underneath these lay a little sheet, on which was written: "Dear, good, loving, kind papa." After this the marks were the unmeaning scribbling of a child, but the hand that traced the first lines ended the page in a touching adieu. The letter was strewn over with withered rose-leaves.

One of the most harassing humiliations which Mr. SICKLES considers he has to endure, is that of sitting in the dock—a dirty hencoop, about three feet square—which, to-day, was placed in the corner of the inclos- was known here as the bar. Yielding, however, to the advice of his counsel, Mr. SICKLES raised no objection,—though after the discharge of the five jurors who were to-day sworn in, Mr. STANTON, one of his counsel, moved that the dock, which is in itself moveable, be brought into the immediate vicinity of the prisoner's counsel,—and Mr. MAGRUDER, another of his counsel, contended that the prisoner had a constitutional right to sit by his legal representatives, and aid them by his statements and advice. To the former motion the Judge partially acceded, but the latter he scouted point blank. The Judge has very primitive notions on the subject, and doubtless would be astounded to learn that in New-York City the thing known as a dock is virtually unknown.

Mr. SICKLES preserves a sang froid that is absolutely miraculous. And yet, if my judgment do not materially deceive me, he is engaged in a continuous struggle with himself. His head and his heart are a violent war. Thus far his head has triumphed.

The effort to-day to procure a Jury has revealed some singular facts. It has shown in the first place, that even here, where the excitement naturally resulting from SICKLES' act was most intense, there are men, and intelligent men—(for the panel exhausted to-day was composed of men obviously intelligent and respectable)—who have not formed or expressed an opinion on the case. In the second place, it shows how rigorous and how hostile will be the course of the prosecution, inasmuch as the District-Attorney insisted on the property qualification ($800) in cases where jurors were otherwise entirely unobjectionable—a rule that has never before been enforced in this District. In the third place, it shows how strong is the popular sympathy in behalf of Mr. SICKLES for the very first man on the panel declared himsel unqualified because of his strong bias in favor of the prisoner; another acknowledged his incompetency because of the identity of interest between himsel and Mr. SICKLES as married men, and all the rest who were most decided in expressing themselves as having already formed opinions, said they considered themselves disqualified, because they deemed themselves incompetent to render a verdict contrary to the convictions now entertained by them.

I have no doubt that to-morrow the Jury will be completed, and I hope that the case will be given to the Jury on Saturday at the latest, though of that I confess I entertain anxious doubt.

Correspondence of the Philadelphia Press.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, April 4, 1859.

The first scene in the Sickles trial commenced this morning. Mr. SICKLES appeared in Court, accompanied by his leading counsel, EDWIN M. STANTON, of Washington, and JAMES T. BRADY, of New-York. Mr. SICKLES was exceedingly well dressed, as is usual with him, cool, collected and pale; and he calmly conferred with his counsel during several hours. He looked as easy as if he were sitting in his seat in the House of Representatives. Mr. STANTON, the principal counsel, is about the size of JOHN C. BULLITT, of your bar, some two or three years older, dark complexion, and of resolute and energetic expression of face and manner. Your Philadelphia lawyers will recollect STANTON for his distinguished connection with the Wheeling Bridge case, some years ago, in which he considerably worsted the Hon JOHN CADWALADER, now the somewhat bizarre Judge of your United States District Court. JAMES T. BRADY, of New-York, (the other counsel,) will arrest attention at once by his remarkable head, which is in itself a study. He is a very elegant gentleman, a fearless and honest lawyer, and an intrepid and thorough-going friend. Mr. OULD, the District-Attorney, younger than either Mr. STANTON or Mr. BRADY, is one of the finest-looking men in the District. He is a little raw in the profession; was an Old-line Whig, opposed to PIERCE in 1852; is connected with some of "the first families;" and is a kind-hearted, amiable and agreeable gentleman. I noticed, among those present at the trial, that gallant and devoted gentleman, the Hon. E. B. HART, Surveyor of the Port of New-York, a man who never yet deserted a friend, or turned his back upon an enemy. He is here advising Mr. SICKLES in his tribulation. The father of the accused, Mr. G. G. SICKLES, of New-York, is also present, taking a profound interest in the proceedings. He is quite a young-looking man, although his beard is long and gray. The excitement which had subsided has been renewed by the trial, and now we have the town filled with the usual gossip, but I cannot doubt that the result will be satisfactory to all the parties concerned; for malgre the efforts of the Star, there is no manifest disposition on the part of the friends of KEY to make any personal war upon Mr. SICKLES. The fact is, a case like this is best settled by being speedily disposed of. The opinion grows apace that SICKLES will be acquitted. The manner in which the traverse jurymen, who found themselves committed all on the side of SICKLES, showed which way the current was setting. I will not be at all astonished if SICKLES is acquitted with the least trouble, and before a speech is made on either side.

The Fugitive Slave Case in Philadelphia—A Popular Tumult.

The Philadelphia North American, April 5, says there was a regular popular tumult at the United States Court, Fifth-street, when it was understood that the slave case would be held there. The crowd, which had surrounded Mr. LONGSTRETH's office, at Seventh and Morris streets, rushed across from Seventh to Sixth street, and then through the Square to the United States Court building. In a moment the passage-ways leading to the Grand Jury room in the basement, to the United States District Court on the main floor, and to the United States Commissioner's Office just opposite, but also on the main floor, were crammed with an immense mass of people.

About 10½ o'clock the negro was taken down stairs into the Grand Jury room and the ladies attempted to follow. Here again the tumult was renewed, although the main door of the edifice was closed and guarded by about thirty of the city police. The ladies were, however, admitted with great difficulty.

At the time the trouble became serious the sixteen Lieutenants of Police were making their morning returns to his Honor, Mayor HENRY. They were all instantly called down from the Mayor's office, and put on duty until a detachment of Lieut. GOLDY's men could be summoned to take their place.

At 3½ o'clock the Commissioner and the parties reassembled in the United States Court-room, in order that more room might be given to spectators. The multitude outside meanwhile remained undiminished—a multitude who appeared, in their absorbing interest in the affair, to have abandoned the workshop and counter, utterly unfit to resume it until their suspense was relieved by either the discharge or the remanding of the prisoner.

At 3½ o'clock the room was called to order. The ladies ceased their whispering, and the lawyers nerved themselves for the continuance of proceedings. The fugitive raised his eyes, and for the first time gazed timorously about the room, as if to find a countenance upon which he could find sympathy.

The Commissioner, in reopening the subject, remarked that, on investigating the case since the adjournment, he had examined the authorities submitted to him by counsel, but could not see their applicability to the present case. His duty was to construe the law literally. He still adhered to his decision of the morning, that the will per se was inadmissible. But the record itself was evidence, and was to be received as such. The transcript of the record is competent testimony, when certified by the Court. Without raising any question as to the wisdom of the enactment, he therefore felt bound to decide that, upon the evidence submitted, of which the transcript referred to formed a part, the fugitive, DANIEL DANGERFIELD, owed service to Mrs. SIMPSON, Virginia.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, April 5.

The fugitive slave case was continued this afternoon. There was no abatement of the excitement in regard to it, and a large police force was in attendance to preserve order. The counsel for the defence moved that Commissioner LONGSTRETH hand the case over to another Judge, for the reason that he had prejudiced the case, and acted as an advocate for the claimants,—it having been shown in evidence that he pronounced the first power of attorney of the claimants as insufficient, and that he had informed them that he would be obliged to release the slave if arrested under it, and that by his advice, a new power of attorney was obtained. Mr. BENJAMIN BREWSTER, for the claimants, argued that it was preëminently the duty of the Commissioner to give this information before he issued his warrant. The Commissioner overruled the motion made by the counsel for the defence.

The evidence for the defence was mostly that of negroes, who endeavored to prove that DANIEL WEBSTER was in Harrisburg in March, 1853. One witness, an intelligent colored man, swore that he met him in Baltimore as a freeman in 1848, in Philadelphia in 1849, and in Harrisburg in June, 1853. His evidence was straightforward and was not shaken by a rigid cross-examination. The examination will be continued until a late hour.

Mr. BREWSTER, the claimant, attempted to bring up rebutting testimony from the officers who conducted DANIEL to the city, to the effect that DANIEL acknowledged he had never been in the city before, and that he manifested surprise during his ride at the extent of the city.

Police Reports.

FIGHT BETWEEN BILLY MULLIGAN AND PAT MATHEWS.—Billy Mulligan, of California Vigilance Committee and general pugilistic notoriety, and Pat Mathews, a well-known political bruiser, whose fame is chiefly confined to this City, had a lively personal rencontre at the Leroy-place Hotel, No. 5 Leroy-place, a few doors from Mercer-street, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Mulligan and Mathews became excited against each other. Their conversation soon assumed a belligerent tone, a grudge which had long existed between them adding fire to the flame. The contest was brief, and is said to have ended evenly, the allegation being that Mulligan bit off the tip of Mathews' nose and blackened his eyes, and that Mathews bit off the tip of Mulligan's nose, and also blackened his eyes. It is asserted further that Mulligan first cried "enough." A man went to the Fifteenth Ward Station House, two blocks off, and gave notice of the fight. Four policemen went rushing in, but the battle had ended. The policemen went back to the Station House, and Mulligan and Mathews went to their respective lodgings.

BURGLARY.—The store No. 288 Front-street was broken into Monday night and the safe opened, but the contents—$125 in money and valuable papers—were untouched. It is probable that the burglars became frightened before they could secure their booty.

EXAMINATION OF THE TARRYTOWN INSTITUTE.

The Twenty-second Term of this Institution closed on Friday, March 31, after an examination of two days.

The Committee have never attended an examination that gave them more delight; the evidences of superior scholarship, exhibited by the pupils, were highly satisfactory, and did honor both to the instructors and the instructed.

The scholars were examined in Latin, French, English, Grammar, Mental and Practical Arithmetic, Algebra, Geography, Natural Philosophy, Single and Double-entry Book-keeping, History, &c., in all of which the students greatly excelled; in French and Book-keeping they were very superior.

The young orators declaimed well; their compositions were well written, and gave evidences of originality.

The pupils are taught FIRST principles, or to give a reason for everything; thus the foundation is laid on which can be erected a noble superstructure.

The design of this Institution is not merely to give a Theoretical, but a Scientific, Classical and Practical Education.

Special attention is paid to physical as well as to intellectual and moral education, in order to develop the whole man, the body, the mind and the heart.

At the conclusion of the interesting exercises, a number of rewards were presented to the scholars, among others, a splendid silver medal, to James B. Hawes.

Several of the Committee have been for a number of years personally acquainted with the Principal and Proprietor of this Institution, Allan Newman, A. M., who has been for over a quarter of a century employed in the successful education of the young. There are many who now fill stations of honor and usefulness, who look back with pleasure and gratitude to the Tarrytown Institute as their Alma Mater.

C. W. Davenport, A. M., the Associate Principal, possesses rare qualifications as an instructor. Mrs. Newman, the wife of the Principal, seems to have been formed for the station she fills with so much credit to herself and usefulness to others.

To those that have sons and wish them thoroughly educated, while, at the same time, they are securing the comforts of home, we most cordially recommend the Tarrytown Institute.

COMMITTEE:
The Rev. J. B. WAKELY, New-York City.
The Rev. ABEL T. STEWART, A. M., Tarryt'n, N. Y.
The Rev. D. BUCK, Tarrytown, N. Y.
The Rev. C. S. SING, A. M., Red Hook, N. Y.
The Rev. THOMAS EDWARDS, Cold Spring, N. Y.

HENRY M. PIERCE, A. M., Principal.
JOHN M. KREBS, D. D., President.

CHERRY VALLEY FEMALE ACADEMY, CHERRY VALLEY, N. Y.—The Summer session will commence May 5, 1859.

From the New-York Observer, Sept. 30, 1858.

It is under the direction of two principals, Messrs. Hazeltine & Fowler, devoted, able and right men. The buildings are spacious, the playgrounds shaded and ample, and all the appointments complete. The system is thorough; there is no sham pretence. The examination of the pupils gave the best evidence of this. Their specimens of oil painting were exceedingly well done. * * * In the evening a concert of music was given; that was indeed a grand affair. Prof. Fowler has a high reputation as a composer and teacher of music, and his concerts attract the most cultivated people from remote parts of the country.

For catalogues apply at No. 244 Pearl-st., New-York, or address the principals.
C. G. HAZELTINE,
J. A. FOWLER.

MUSICAL.

THE DRIGGS PATENT PIANO-FORTE—
(W. V. WALLACE.)

Its tones are the fullest, most sonorous and pure.

It is the most durable, and will remain longer in tune than any other piano forte.

It is built upon a solid iron frame or bed plate—the whole case forms a vibrating shell, with an upper and lower sounding-board, like the violin.

"It is the best piano-forte existing," and is recommended by Thalberg, Gottschalk, Wm. H. Fry, M. Strakosch, Maretzek, Albert H. Wood, Gustave Schardt, Wm Mason, H. Wollenhaupt, and many other musical celebrities.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

By the arrival of the screw steamship New-York, of the Bremen line, from Southampton on the 22d ult., we have European advices three days later than by the Persia. The news thus received vibrates to the side of peace. Statements of undefined origin, to the effect that a European Congress on the Italian question was about to assemble, and that both the belligerent Emperors were willing to await the possibility of a diplomatic solution by such a body, before proceeding to the final appeal, had lent extraordinary buoyancy to the stock markets; and the hope of peace was in the ascendant. At the same time, however, the armaments and the movements of troops were proceeding with undiminished energy, in France, Italy and Austria; and the official organ at Vienna had warned the public not to place too great confidence in the rumor of a conference, or in the probability of a pacific result. In England, the most important events were the arrival of an advanced guard of the Neapolitan exiles, with their enthusiastic reception at Bristol; and the introduction of Lord John Russell's resolutions, amendatory of the Government Reform Bill into the House of Commons. The latter proceeding led to an animated debate, in the course of which Lord Stanley made a brilliant speech in reply to that of the old Whig leader. The Emperor of France, on the 20th ult., reviewed a body of 23,000 troops. The parade passed off without any event of political significance.

Later news from California (March 7) and Fraser's River (Feb. 28) is received by the Overland Mail at St. Louis. A brisk trade was in progress between Los Angelos and Utah; merchandise to the value of $180,000 having been forwarded to Utah during the first week of March. The clipper-ship Intrepid arrived at San Francisco March 6, after a passage of 132 days from New-York. From Fraser's River we learn that the refusal of Governor Douglass to permit a public celebration of Washington's Birthday continued to excite ill-feeling among the American residents. There was no specially-important news from the mines, but prospects continued favorable.

The dispatches sent to Minister Lamar are stated to be of a very important character, and calculated to bring our difficulties with Nicaragua to a speedy solution. An apology, restitution and indemnity are to be demanded, on failure of which he is to demand his passports. The Home Squadron is to be strengthened. Orders have been given by the Navy Department for the immediate preparation for sea of the following vessels: Portsmouth and Mohican, at Portsmouth, N. H.; Constellation, Hartford and Niagara, at Boston; San Jacinto, at New-York; Lancaster and Wyoming, at Philadelphia, and John Adams, at Norfolk. These being for the greater part steam frigates of the heaviest armament, the demonstration is of unquestioned importance. The vessels of the squadron are to be placed at the disposal of Minister Lamar, to be used for the defence of American citizens, their property and their vested rights.

Contrary to expectation, it was found impossible, yesterday, to obtain a full Jury in the Sickles case. Out of the seventy-five talesmen summoned, of whom seventy-four answered to their names, but three were found to be competent, making eight in all. Most of those rejected expressed decided sympathy with the accused, and believed they could not, under the circumstances, render an impartial verdict. The Marshal of the District was directed to summon an additional panel of seventy-five talesmen for to-day. This number, as they will generally come from outside the City of Washington, will be likely to furnish the additional four required to constitute the Jury.

The most important action of the Legislature, yesterday, during the morning Session, was the killing of the Personal Liberty bill in the Assembly. Twenty-one Republicans and Americans voted against it. In the afternoon the Seventh-avenue, the Fourteenth-street, and Avenue D Railroad bills were ordered to a third reading. The proceedings in the Senate were not specially important. Mr. Wetmore was declared entitled to the seat vacated by Mr. Mandeville, and took the requisite oath.

As indicated by our dispatches published yesterday morning, the Republicans of Connecticut were entirely successful in the election on Monday—they having elected the four members, the whole State ticket, and majorities in both branches of the Legislature.

The regular monthly meeting of the Historical Society was held last evening; the reports of the Treasurer and other officers were read. The reading of the paper of the evening was postponed, in order that the audience, which was exceedingly large and consisted partly of ladies, might inspect the Nineveh marbles which have been placed in frames in the refectory, under the hall of the Society. Before the audience were invited to view them, however, speeches in regard to the acquisition which the Society had received in them were made by the Hon. Luther Bradish, President of the Society, the Rev. Dr. Francis L. Hawks, Professor Green, the Hon. George Bancroft and the Rev. Dr. Osgood. A Committee of fifteen was appointed to negotiate for the purchase of Dr. Abbott's Egyptian collection, and the Society adjourned. The Nineveh marbles are curious specimens and well worth a visit.

According to the weekly statement presented at the meeting of the Board of Governors yesterday afternoon, there are 7,630 inmates in the different institutions. A resolution was adopted directing the Medical Board of Bellevue Hospital to report the names of the visiting surgeons who have faithfully discharged their duties during the year, and what vacancies exist at present. Governor Townsend presented several additional petitions asking that the children under the care of the Governors who were born Catholics, might be brought up in that persuasion.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday, a Grand Jury was impanneled. So alarming has been the recent increase of crime in the City, that since the sitting of the last Grand Inquest, there are already eleven cases of murder and manslaughter to be presented for indictment. The Recorder's charge was brief, but apposite, dwelling concisely on those features of crime to which the attention of the Grand Jury will be immediately called. William Johnson and John Fletcher were sentenced, for burglary to five years each in the State Prison. Several other trials resulted in conviction, but the prisoners were remanded for sentence.

The Charter Election in Brooklyn, yesterday, resulted in the success of the Democrats generally. They elected their candidates for Mayor, Comptroller, Auditor, Treasurer and Justice of the Peace in the Fifth District. A sufficient number of Opposition Aldermen were elected, however, to insure a majority in the Common Council against the Democrats.

Yesterday, 5,400 bales Cotton, mainly in transitu, found buyers at somewhat firmer prices. A moderate business was transacted in Flour, which, however, was cheaper. Grain was quiet and depressed. Provisions were in good demand, as were also Coffee, Teas, Sugars and Molasses. The movements in other commodities were restricted.

The European Congress.

Napoleon III. has made another step towards the moral dominion of Europe. He has forced Austria to accede to a Congress for the Five Powers, for deciding those very questions of Austrian policy in Italy upon which the Cabinet of Vienna has steadily and haughtily protested that Austria could hear no discussion and accept no suggestions from abroad. All, and more than all, England vainly solicited in 1852, has been conceded to France in 1859; and where Lord Palmerston, speaking with the voice of the ancient ally of the House of Hapsburg, received only insult and contumely, the heir of Napoleon—the representative of Marengo, Austerlitz, and Wagram—has carried his first great point, and brought the proud Empire which, among Continental States, has always been the most supercilious enemy of his House, to acknowledge herself a culprit at the bar of European public opinion.

This signal change in the attitude of Austria has not been brought about without considerable difficulty, and the very steamer which brings us the news of the Austrian acquiescence in the policy of England and Prussia, also brings us fresh intelligence of vast warlike preparations in Austrian Italy, and of the unsubdued desire of the young Austrian Emperor to settle the questions at issue between himself and France rather by the sword than by the pen. It must indeed have been a powerful pressure from without which has thus in a few weeks revered the Austrian policy of years, and forced the proudest of Governments into submitting what it regards as its own internal affairs to the supervision and the scrutiny of foreign States. And this consideration alone would suffice, were there no other grounds for looking with much uncertainty to the results of the proposed Conferences, to make us regard the measure now resolved upon as a prorogation of the evil hour, rather than a real guarantee of peace.

The submission of Austria is more likely to be temporary and formal, than final and decisive. The Kaiser has yielded where the Czar held sternly out, simply because his advisers have found that France has set in motion a power which could not be successfully diverted. England and Prussia, with all their passionate desire of peace, found themselves constrained to abandon Austria on the specific points at issue. Russia, as now appears daily more and more evident, is perfectly prepared to coöperate with France, either for the complete prostration of Austria or for the complete humiliation of English influence, and neither England nor Austria dare assume a position of independent defiance in the face of these two Powers, wielding in concert, as they do, the most formidable armaments of the world by land and sea. France as the first of naval powers, and Russia as the military mistress of the East, must always exert an influence necessarily paramount in European affairs when the question upon which they are united, as in the present instance, is one of plain European law, and of the permanence of social order. But that influence cannot be thrown away. A Congress called under such auspices as have introduced the coming conference on the state of Italy, must settle the problems brought before it, or break up in open hostilities. No trifling or secondary arrangements can content the French sovereign who has convoked this Parliament of the nations, or the Russian sovereign who has supported him in his demands. And here lies the peril of the position—that Austria, in the language of Metternich, may prefer a "violent death to a slow decay," and on finding herself placed between the alternatives of surrending all that she has won in Italy by the treachery and treaty-making of the last ten years, or drawing the sword to defend herself in what she esteems her rights, may choose the sharper and sterner resort. This, we are still inclined to think, the more probable issue of the two; and such would still seem to be the opinion of the calmest observers abroad, quite independently of the ominous and obvious risks of collision between Austria and Sardinia in Italy, which no Congress can permanently conjure away.

But, however, the Congress of Berlin (since it would appear that at Berlin rather than at London or Paris this new convocation is to meet) may come to its end—whether in the recession of Austria along the line of the Po, or in the advance of France and Sardinia upon Lombardy and Venice—the position involves in either case a great advantage to the policy of the French Emperor.

Should the Congress solve the knot even of Central Italy, it will have done a work upon which the abilities and the capacity of French and English statesmen have been fruitlessly spent through long and exciting years. It will have shaken the ramparts and beaten down the outworks of the Austrian dominion in Italy, and mitigated the terrors of the inevitable future Revolution by diminishing the difficulties in its way. To have accomplished so much as this will add a new lustre to the Crown of Napoleon III., and strengthen the French Emperor's position in the face of all future European contingencies. In gaining this new prestige, Napoleon will also have inflicted a new blow upon the Continental influence of his restive ally beyond the Channel. Whatever sympathy English statesmen may show to Austria, the simple fact that England has lent herself to enforcing upon Austria the vexation of appearing before a European Court at the bidding of France, has already, we may be sure, embittered the Austrian feeling against Great Britain, never of the most friendly character, and secured to England, in any possible coming difficulty, one enemy the more.

Should Austria, on the contrary, repudiate all propositions of effectual settlement, and fling down her gauntlet on the floor of the Congress, the French Emperor may take the field against her with a vast accesion of moral force. He will have won over to himself many of the sympathies now denied to him, while his antagonist will have been put most conspicuously in the wrong before the eyes of all the world. All the charges which the English and German Press now so foolishly or so maliciously prefer against him, of "willfully" disturbing the peace of Europe," and of "creating" difficulties where none had existed, will have become too openly ridiculous to be any longer available. That England, which should have been and might have been the controlling State of Europe in reference to the present position of affairs, should have chosen to abdicate her opportunity and put herself in such an attitude that come what may, she must lose weight in Europe and consideration throughout the world, is probably due to the fact that the English statesmen of the hour are more anxious to protect the Ionian Islands from Russia, and Malta from France, than to see constitutional liberty established in Italy, or Austrian insolence thoroughly rebuked. That this selfish policy may prove in the end to have been as shortsighted as it was selfish, there are good grounds for supposing. England's egotistical policy of peace with Austria is not likely to result any more to her advantage now than did her equally egotistical policy of war with Russia after the fall of Sebastopol.

The New Cuban Expedition.

The Courrier des Etats Unis repeats its assertion that a new expedition for the conquest of Cuba is now on foot in this City. It states, with precision and emphasis, that a part of the destined "liberators" have already sailed, and that within a very few days the whole affair will be made public.

The plan of the invaders is sketched by the Courrier considerably in detail. It would appear to be a mere repetition of the attempt of 1854—an attempt which, as the Courrier justly observes, resulted in nothing but the misery of a number of respectable Cuban families. Men are to be landed at some point of the extended Cuban coasts, remote from the centres of the Spanish power, and there they are to maintain themselves until a general rising in the Island and the tacit, if not the avowed, support of the American Government shall summon them to march upon Havana.

We agree most heartily with the Courrier in branding this scheme, if it really exists, as equally scandalous and senseless. So far as its projectors rely upon the rebellious disposition of any considerable part of the Cuban population, they are building their house upon the sand. The native Spaniards in Cuba, formidable by their wealth, and still more formidable by their intelligence and their union, may almost to a man be counted upon as the bitter enemies either of Cuban independence or of American annexation. The mass of the Creoles, the guajiros of the interior, have no particular opinions in matters political, but abhor riots and the foreigner quite as much as the tax-gatherers and the Spanish officials. The more opulent natives are divided, as are the opulent natives of all countries, into the ambitious few who are ready to risk everything for their ambition, and the ambitious many who cherish their ambition indeed, but worship their property. From them, as a body, no dubious revolutionary movement has or can have anything to expect.

On the support of President Buchanan it would be equally mad to count. The President will take no responsibility in such a case. He would doubtless be willing to profit by a fillibustering success, however disgraceful. He will have nothing to do with a problematical fillibustering adventure. The new Cuba expedition can only ripen, if it has really been planted and nourished into shape, to the utter ruin of all who may commit to it their fortunes or their lives.

An Example to Congressmen.—As the politicians of this country seem of late years to have taken the pugilists for their preceptors "guides, philosophers and friends," it is to be hoped they will not slight the virtues and confine their imitative talent to the vices only of their models. In the weightier matters of the pugilistic law—in mere bruising and battering, hard drinking and swearing—the Congressional pupils have nothing left to learn. But an exhibition of sparring, which took place at Hoym's Theatre on Monday evening, proves that there are certain traits of the pugilistic character not yet familiar to the political platform.

On that occasion two heroes of the Ring, Mr. Morrissey and Mr. Heenan, whose last previous interview had been of a decidedly hostile and unsatisfactory kind, met as friends and brethren to pummel each other with the amicable gloves, for the benefit of the widow and family of a deceased gentleman of the fancy. The behavior of these champions would have been quite worthy of two of Froissart's Knights. They had a "gentle and joyous passage of arms," without the least rising of ill-blood, or the least sign of any disposition to intrude their personal differences upon a public display of the better feelings of the "profession."

Not less commendable was the conduct of the vast audience which witnessed, and of the many lesser chieftains who took part in the proceedings. The whole affair passed off with a decorum of which the halls of the National Capitol have not lately seen the like. The good feeling which governed the assembly was fully equal to the generosity which had brought it together, and the occasion furnishes at once a salutary rebuke and an honorable example to that large class of our politicians who ape the ordinary behavior of the Bowery-boy, without cultivating his instincts, and parody the practice without emulating the spirit of the true pugilist.

The Sickles Trial.—The trial of Mr. Sickles makes slow progress. Up to the adjournment of the Court yesterday only eight jurymen had been sworn, out of 104 who had been summoned. Nearly all who were called upon did not hesitate to avow decided sympathy with the prisoner, and to confess their consequent disqualification for the office of juryman. There is a disposition in some quarters to censure the rigor with which the District-Attorney insists upon a strict compliance with the law, especially in regard to the property qualification required for jurors. We cannot concur in this censure. In a case of so much importance and attracting so much public attention, he cannot do otherwise than adhere to the strict letter of the law. Any other course would expose him to hostile criticism and would weaken public confidence in the impartial justice of the decision which may be reached. The trial can scarcely be concluded this week.

The Havre Consulship.—We understand that Gen. George P. Morris declines the Consulship at Havre, which was tendered to him by the President. The inadequacy of the salary, and the arduous and confining nature of the duties of the office, which are not at all congenial to the habits and tastes of a literary gentleman, have decided him to this course. We trust this may lead to the retention of the present incumbent, Mr. W. H. Vesey, whose familiarity with the duties of the place, readiness to aid Americans arriving at that port, and general courtesy, intelligence and efficiency, have made him deservedly popular with all his countrymen. Mr. Vesey, as a single man, can live upon the income of the office, which could not be done by any man with a family, desirous of holding a respectable social position at Havre.

Political.—The Baltimore Patriot urges the necessity of calling a Convention of all who are opposed to the present Democratic régime to nominate a President. It urges that in this way only can a nomination be made which will secure support in all sections, as the South will never vote for the candidate of the Republican Party as such. It calls upon the Republicans, therefore, to surrender their party preferences, and join all other opponents of the Administration in such a movement.

The suggestion is very well in its way. But the manner of its reception may depend somewhat upon the degree of good faith attending the proposed union. Will the Southern delegates pledge themselves to abide by the result of such a Convention? And, if it should result in the nomination of a decided Republican, say Mr. Seward or Governor Banks, will they pledge themselves to support the ticket? If they will, possibly the Republicans would be very willing to act upon the suggestion. If not, the Patriot could scarcely ask or expect them to do so.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

Character of the Dispatches Sent to Minister Lamar—Energetic Measures to be Taken Against Nicaragua—The Quartermaster's Department, &c.

Washington, Tuesday, April 5.

The dispatches sent to General Lamar are, it is represented, of the most positive character. They instruct him to demand from Nicaragua an apology, restitution and indemnity, on a failure to comply with which he is to ask for his passports.

The Home Squadron, it is said, will be strengthened and the vessels placed at the disposal of Gen. Lamar, to use them for the defence of American citizens, their property and vested rights. The dispatches to Flag-officers McCluney and Long, commanding respectively the Home and Pacific Squadrons, are to obey the orders of Gen. Lamar. Failing to receive them, they are to exercise a latitudinous discretion.

The usual diplomatic course has been pursued in informing the Foreign Legations of the intentions of this Government.

The Quarter-Masters Department is curtailing its expenses as rapidly as the public service will admit. In addition to two military posts on the route to Utah, three are to be dispensed with in Texas; and orders have been issued to stop the purchase of mules, etc.

Advices from Africa say the American Squadron is still repeating their monotonous drudgery up and down the coast for the distance of five thousand miles. The health of the squadron was tolerably good. The Dale left Sierra Leone on the 8th of February for Monrovia, and from thence she would go northward to Bathurst, Goree, Cape de Verds, and farther as the public service may require.

Connecticut Election.

New-Haven, Tuesday, April 5.

The result of the election, as ascertained to this hour, is the choice of four Congressmen, the State ticket and both Houses of the Legislature by the Republicans.

Mr. Loomis is elected by 65 majority; Mr. Woodruff by 330; Mr. Burnham by 700, and Mr. Ferry by over 500.

The Senate stands 14 Republicans to 7 Democrats.

The House as far as heard from stands 85 Republicans to 71 Democrats. A large majority of the towns to hear from are Republican, and the majority will be from 20 to 40 members.

Hartford, Tuesday, April 5.

The Republicans have elected 120 Representatives, the Democrats 99, with 18 to hear from. The Republican majority will be about 25 in the House. The Senate will stand 12 Republicans to 9 Democrats. Buckingham, for Governor, will have about 2,500 plurality in the State. The Republicans elect their Congressmen in the First District by 65; Second District over 300; Third District over 500, and the Fourth District by about 800. The triumph of the Republicans is complete.

Michigan Election.

Detroit, Tuesday, April 5.

The election yesterday for Chief-Justice of the Supreme Court passed off quietly. The returns from the interior show considerable Republican gains, and indicate the election of George Martin, the Republican candidate, by over 10,000 majority. The Republican gains in this city since last Fall are nearly 800.

There is a brisk snow-storm here this morning.

St. Louis Municipal Election.

St. Louis, Tuesday, April 5.

Nearly full returns of our city election yesterday give Filley, Republican candidate for Mayor, 2,500 majority over Boggy, Democrat; and 4,500 over Wyman, American. Filley's plurality may be increased to 3,000. The Republicans have also elected their whole city ticket, and a majority of the Common Council.

Portland, Me., Municipal Election.

Portland, Me., Tuesday, April 5.

At the municipal election to-day, Mr. Jewett, the Republican candidate for Mayor, was elected, receiving 2,020 votes against 1,812 for Holden, Democrat. The Republicans elected Mr. Lane, Judge of the Municipal Court; five Aldermen out of the seven, and 16 of the 22 Councilmen.

Cleveland Municipal Election.

Cleveland, Tuesday, April 5.

Senter, the Republican candidate for Mayor, was elected yesterday. The entire Republican ticket is also elected without doubt, although the vote is not yet entirely counted.

Schenectady Charter Election.

Schenectady, Tuesday, April 5.

At the Charter election, held in this city to-day, S. P. Forrest, Republican, was elected Mayor.

New-Jersey Items.

THE STRIKE OF THE BOATMEN AT NEWARK, &C.

Newark, Tuesday, April 5.

The strike of the boatmen at Newark still continues, and the strikers have expressed a determination to allow no boats to pass up the canal until their demands are complied with. A boat was, however, forced through yesterday, by a detachment of police, as far as Bloomfield, where a constabulary force took charge of it to the borders of Passaic County, here it was taken in charge of by Patterson officers, and passed on. A large number of the strikers had collected along the Canal, some of whom were armed with clubs, and a riot was feared, no resistance however was offered, except at Patterson, where the owner of a boat was maltreated, and an attempt made to sink his vessel. The Mayor and a squad of men were applied to, and requested the ringleaders of the crowd to disperse. It is the intention of the Company to send a squad of police with every boat going out at present.

Four desperate burglars were arrested last night at Irvington, and committed to jail.

The dry-goods store of Candell & Rake, at Elizabeth, was burnt last night. Loss not yet estimated.

Murder and Attempted Suicide, &c.

Detroit, Monday, April 4.

Edward H. Benedict, a resident of this city, stabbed his wife in a fit of jealousy to-day, killing her almost instantly. He afterwards attempted to hang himself.

This city to-day gave the Republican candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, 236 majority.

Fire at New-Orleans.

New-Orleans, Tuesday, April 5.

The lumber-yard of Brady & Co., in this city, was destroyed by fire to-day. Loss $10,000.

Non-Arrival of the Indian.

Portland, Wednesday, April 6—1 A. M.

There are as yet no indications of the steamer Indian, now overdue at this port with Liverpool dates of the 23d ult.

The Sailing of the Niagara.

Boston, Monday, April 4.

The Royal Mail steamship Niagara sails from here for Liverpool via Halifax at about noon to-morrow. Her mails close at 9 A. M.

Southern Ocean Steamer Movements.

Charleston, Tuesday, April 5.

The United States Mail steamship James Adger, Captain R. Adams, from New-York, arrived here at 8 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning.

Removing Hackney Coaches from the Park.—The Committee on Ordinances of the Board of Councilmen met yesterday afternoon to consider the propriety of removing the hackney coaches from the west side of the Park to the other stands designated by the Common Council. Ex-Councilman Reynolds and a large number of hackney coachmen were present. They protested with great unanimity against the proposed measure, saying that there were not stands enough now to accommodate all who desired places. They urged that other stands should be designated; one at Fourteenth-street and one at Madison-square for instance; limiting the number of coaches allowed there to twenty or twenty-five. Councilman Reynolds insisted that the carriages at the Park did not block Broadway. The stages caused all the trouble, he said, and the first move should be made against them. Though the Committee did not seem to agree with him in all his views they did not indicate their probable action.

AFFAIRS AT ALBANY.

The City Railroads Reappear with New Routes and New Corporators—Offer of $500,000 for the Franchise of the Parallel Railroad—Damages to Private Property to be Made Good—The Personal Liberty Bill Lost—Almost Another Veto, &c., &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Albany, Tuesday, April 5, 1859.

While the House was agitating the Averill Ore Bed claim, last evening, the three Select Committees of Five were jointly in session in the Court of Appeals, listening to arguments pro and con. the City Railroads. Mr. Bliss sat in the seat of Chief Justice Scott, Major Scholefield adorned Judge Strong's seat, Mr. Gover occupied Judge Denio's place, Mr. Fitzgerald modestly sat in the Clerk's desk. Mr. Spencer opened the debate, urging the propriety of making the corporators of the Parallel Road pay $200,000 to the City and $200,000 to the owners of stage routes to be ruined by the Railroad.

Mr. Opdyke followed, with a brief but forcible argument, and read the following letter:

The Hon. George Opdyke, Member, &c.:

Understanding that a bill has been introduced in the Legislature granting to certain parties therein named the privilege of laying and operating a railroad in the Seventh-avenue, Broadway and parallel thereto, in the City of New-York, without compensation to the City or property-holders along the route, we authorize you to offer for us the sum of $500,000 for the same privilege. We further agree to pay the same into the City Treasury as soon as said grant is perfected and confirmed by the City authorities of New York; but if the right of the Legislature and Common Council to make such grant is contested, such payments to be made as soon as the question of such rights is settled by the Courts. In making the above offer, we distinctly disclaim any intention of soliciting the said grant of the Legislature, for we believe it to be against public policy, and subversive of private rights, and we only make the offer to show that the franchise asked for is a valuable one, and if created at all, should not be given away. [Signed.]

THOMAS A. DAVIES, HENRY T. ANTHON.
D. B. HAIGHT, CHESTER LAMB,
THOMAS SLOCUM, N. SULLIVAN,
A. R. ENO, EDWIN HOYT.

Albany, March 29, 1859.

Mr. Opdyke referred to the case of the city of Syracuse and the Central Railroad, and said that below Fourteenth-street the streets were in precisely the condition with those of Syracuse, and that to seize one of them for a railroad the consent of each property-owner should be obtained, or each one of them equitably remunerated. Above Fourteenth-street the streets were held in trust by the City, and a different rule prevailed. He urged the impropriety of giving the grant to any parties for a less sum, when here were men, certainly of equal responsibility, offering half a million for it.

A. Oakey Hall, Esq., pleaded for the railroads, their necessity and their popularity, quoting the Times and the Evening Post. He argued that nothing whatever should be received for the franchise, since it must all come at last out of those who ride upon the road. The cheaper an article can be bought the cheaper it can be resold. To grant a railroad, unincumbered with conditions, would be the cheapest, and the cheaper the road is got by the runners of it, the cheaper they can run it. He reviewed briefly the municipal, the omnibus, the property-holders, and the prejudice arguments.

Mr. Bayley Myers (son-in-law of Sidney Mason) spoke for the Sixth-avenue road, of which he is Secretary; claiming that if new roads are permitted to occupy its track, they would obstruct the side streets below Canal-street, and damage alike the road he represented and the property along its line. Being asked if the fare would not be cheapened by granting more roads, he answered, that within the year, after careful examination of the subject, he had testified under oath that the average cost of carrying each passenger on the Sixth-avenue Road was 3¾ cents.

At 10 o'clock the Committee, by vote, ceased to hear arguments and adjourned for private sessions in the morning. Sleeping on them, the original bills were somewhat amended. To the Avenue D road was added a double track running from Lewis-street, down to Grand-street Ferry. Samuel W. Mackrell's name as a corporator was struck out and John O'Keefe's put in.

The amendments in the Fourteenth-street Road bill knock out the name of Peter Morris, and add Jared Gilsen, Chas. W. Lawrence and Ellis Edmonds to the list of Corporators. To the route it adds a double track from Howard to Leonard streets, along Elm-street, while through Elm to Reade the new bill carries a single track, and up to Park-row by Chatham-street. Also connects with the double track in Park-row through and along Beekman-street, with a single track, to South-street; thence through and along South-street, with a single track, to Fulton-street; thence through and along Fulton-street, with a single track, to William-street; thence through and along William-street, with a single track, to Ann street, and thence through and along Ann-street, with a single track, to connect with the double track in Park-row, at Broadway, together with the necessary turn-outs and switches on the route. Section 5th in the new bill is new and important. It reads: "Nothing herein contained shall be deemed or taken to prevent the Common Council of the City of New-York from directing the extension of the route of said railroad as in their judgment public necessity for additional facilities of travel shall demand. But no such extension shall be directed until the said parties or their assigns shall have been afforded a hearing in regard thereto, nor unless a majority of all the members elected to the said Common Council shall vote in favor thereof, and any such extension, when so directed, shall be made, laid out and operated under and subject to the provisions and regulations of this act." This and each of the other bills provides that nothing in the act of April 4, 1854, shall apply to the roads chartered under them.

The Seventh-avenue bill is said also to be so much amended that its friends scarcely recognize it, but, the Chairman of the Committee cannot be caught this morning, and the bill is with him. Its route I believe is not much changed. All three have new provisions inserted with reference to the compensation of route and property owners. The Seventh-avenue bill gives $200,000 to the omnibus route proprietors, and the same amount to the City. The others provide for the payment of damages to property in the same way as when railroads cross private lands, and by the provisions of the same law.

The Personal Liberty bill was up this morning. Judge Morris and Mr. Miller tried to get it recommitted, with instructions to inquire into its constitutionality. This failing, it came to its third reading, and receiving but 59 ayes, a reconsideration was moved and tabled. General Duryea, Mr. Opdyke, and Mr. Rutherford asked to be excused, but afterward voted no to the bill. Among those who successfully dodged the Ayes and Noes were Morris, Coleman, Pelton, Loomis and Earll.

The Governor sent an odd communication to the House last evening. The Canal Tax bill which has passed both Houses, provides that interest on certain drafts shall be paid, but does not name the rate of interest, for the reason that another bill known as the "Interest bill," which is well forwarded, provides for just the amount of interest to be paid on all drafts. The Governor, however, thought that the rate of interest should be named in the Tax bill, and consequently late last evening sent it in to the House "for correction." The message was not a veto nor an approval—and for a moment the House did not know what to do with it. The Speaker informed the House that the Governor must be uninformed as to the fact that an Interest bill was coming, and ruled to treat the communication as a veto. So the reconsideration was put and carried; by unanimous consent, six per cent. as the rate of interest was inserted, and the bill repassed and sent to the Senate.

The German Savings Bank bill—the one which was once lost—was reconsidered and passed by an abundant vote to-day. Mr. Opdyke protested that a bill once lost was dead, and being ruled out of order, appealed from the decision of the Chair,—on the ground that since it was once dead it could only reappear by being newly introduced, which, under the joint rules was not proper. The appeal was not sustained.

The East Brooklyn Savings Bank was put through the Assembly this morning. The Grinding Committee has only ground two bills during the last twenty-four hours, one of which is the "Divorce bill" introduced by Judge Morris, which makes wilful desertion after five year's residence in the State for three years, and cruel treatment, adequate causes for granting divorces.

The weather is—ugh! cold, wiry, raw, and wicked. Yesterday it snowed hard: this morning the ground was white. Fires and overcoats are again in order.

GLAUCUS.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

SENATE....Albany, Tuesday, April 5.

Messrs. Hubbell and Diven, from the majority of the Committee on Finance, submitted an able and concise report on the communication from the Commissioners of the Canal Fund, asking the Legislature to provide the means, by taxation, to pay the interest on the Canal debt, on the ground that the Sinking Fund is exhausted. The Committee show the constitutional power of the Commissioners of the Canal Fund to borrow money for the purpose, and deny their right to dictate to the Legislature as to their course. The report concludes with the following:

Resolved, That, in the opinion of the Senate, the Commissioners of the Canal Fund have a constitutional power and legal right to make and negotiate a deficiency loan on the credit of the Sinking Fund, under and by value of Section 3, Article 7, of the Constitution of this State, for the purpose of preserving the public faith and satisfying the claims of the creditors of the State upon that fund, as they become payable, whether for the principal or interest due or to become due on loans contracted under that section for the enlargement and completion of the public works.

The report was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. Ames reported favorably the Wharfage bill.

Mr. Sloan dissented from the report, and on his motion the bill was laid on the table.

The State Tax Equalization bill was then taken up.

EVENING SESSION.

Mr. Ely, by unanimous consent, introduced a bill for the relief of holders of certain repudiated obligations of the New-Haven Railroad. The bill provides for a per capita tax of $1 for each passenger brought by said railroad into the City of New-York, for the liquidation of the repudiated bonds and stock of the Company.

The special order was then announced, being the consideration of the resolution declaring Mr. Wetmore entitled to a seat as Senator from the Eleventh District.

Mr. Diven moved the adoption of the resolution, and spoke in its support.

After debate, the resolution admitting Mr. Wetmore to a seat was adopted, by 17 to 13.

Mr. Wetmore then took the oath of office, when the Senate adjourned.

ASSEMBLY....Albany, Tuesday, April 5.

The bill to authorize the increase of the capital stock of the Albany and Susquehanna railroad was referred to be reported complete.

Mr. Smith moved to reconsider the vote by which the bill to incorporate the German Saving Bank of the City of New-York was lost.

After opposition by Mr. Opdyke, the vote was reconsidered, and the bill passed by 109 to 2.

The Personal Liberty bill came up for a third reading.

Mr. Miller moved to recommit it, to inquire into its constitutionality. Lost.

The bill was then defeated, by 58 to 44.

Twenty-one Republicans and Americans voted in the negative. None but Republicans voted in the affirmative.

The bill to amend the act to provide for the government of the Central Park, New-York, was passed.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mr. Scholefield reported the Seventh-avenue New-York Railroad bill, and it was ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Bliss reported the Fourteenth-street New-York Railroad bill.

Mr. Opdyke moved that the bill be recommitted, with instructions to substitute for it a general law applicable to cities, embracing the general features of the railroad law. He argued that the Constitution expressly provides that no special law shall be passed, when the object can be accomplished under a general law.

Before the question was taken on the motion to recommit the bill, the house resumed the third reading of bills, but none of general interest were passed.

The bill for the better regulation of the firemen of the City of New-York was referred to be reported complete.

After further debate, the motion to recommit the Fourteenth-street Railroad bill was lost, and it was ordered to a third reading.

Mr. Mackin reported the New-York Avenue D Railroad bill complete.

Mr. Opdyke moved to recommit the bill, to limit the fare to three cents.

This was debated and lost, and the bill ordered to a third reading.

The bill legalizing the grant of the Common Council of New-York for a railroad in certain streets of the City of New-York was also ordered to a third reading.

EVENING SESSION.

The following bills were ordered to a third reading:

To expand the powers of the Courts so as to allow sentence to be passed at any term.

To protect the liberty of witnesses.

The New-York Observatory bill.

The Judiciary Committee reported against the bill increasing the powers of public Administrators by providing that the State should take estates, after the owners have been absent ten years.

Mr. Hutchinson objected to the report. The bill had been carefully considered in the Senate, and should be sent into the House for their consideration.

Mr. C. S. Spencer spoke against the principle of bill, and hoped it would not be sent into the House.

Mr. Law advocated the bill, and hoped the House would insist upon considering the bill.

The Speaker spoke strongly in favor of placing the bill in the possession of the House. It was of too much importance to be smothered by a Committee.

After further debate, the House ordered the bill to the Committee of the Whole, disagreeing with the report of the Committee by a vote of 71 to 10.

A large number of reports were made by the Committees.

The question then came up on the motion of Mr. Opdyke, made in the afternoon, to substitute for the Fourteenth-street Railroad bill, the general bill relative to the construction of City Railroads.

Mr. Opdyke spoke at length against the bill. It had been amended so as to provide compensation to the City, but he did not believe that any compensation would ever be paid. The corporators knew well how to manage the Common Council. A small personal compensation to each individual in Council, would secure any action the corporators desired.

Mr. Conkling asked that delay might be granted in order to print the bill as amended by the Committee. He spoke on the subject and value of the franchise, and against bestowing it without compensation, and argued against the constitutionality of the grant, without compensating property owners.

Mr. Tomlinson argued at length against the bill, speaking eloquently in praise of the City of New-York, and claiming for her citizens the right of self-government and the management of her own internal affairs.

Mr. Scholefield replied in behalf of the bills. The Special Committee had given great attention to them. The opposition made against them came from the omnibus proprietors, who were willing enough to withdraw their opposition if they received a compensation for doing so. The opposition next came from the men who first opposed any roads at all, and they declared they were willing to pay $500,000 for the franchise, and at last demanded their names should be inserted in the present bills as corporators.

The Case of Mrs. Hartung—The Metropolitan Police Cases, &c.

Albany, Tuesday, April 5.

It is rumored that Governor Morgan has determined not to interfere to prevent the execution of the sentence of death against Mary Hartung for the murder of her husband. The rumor has an apparent foundation, but the fact will not be made known until to-morrow.

Senator Mather has addressed a communication to the Judges of the Court of Appeals soliciting an early decison on the Metropolitan Police cases, in order to guide Legislative action in the premises. The judgment will probably be rendered to-morrow, but it is generally understood that it will be in favor of the old force, declaring them still legally in the service of the City of New-York.

Two Days Later from California and Fraser's River.

By the Overland Mail at St. Louis, we have received dates from California to March 7, two days later than steamer advices. On the 6th March, ship Intrepid arrived at San Francisco in 132 days from New-York, and ship John Clark in 170 days from Baltimore. The trade with Utah from Los Angeles was lively. In the first week of March, 150 wagons loaded with merchandise, valued at $180,000, had started for that destination.

Miss Avonia Jones was to appear at Maguire's Opera House in San Francisco, March 9.

Dates from Oregon, to February 23, are received by this arrival. A large emigration was going into the Walla-Walla Valley. From present indication there will be a population of 2 000 persons there before the Spring shall close, chiefly composed of residents of Oregon. The Williamette valley will be strongly represented there in men and stock, and we learn that quite a number of our citizens will leave Portland within the next month, to establish themselves in new homes in the Walla-Walla.

We also receive news from British Columbia to February 29. The refusal of Gov. Douglas to allow American residents to fire a salute in honor of Washington's birthday, was still a subject for conversation at Victoria. The Americans manifested their indignation at the affront on every occasion. The British Colonist defends the Governor and deprecates the action of the Americans at the meeting referred to in our last summary of Victoria items.

A proposition to annex the colony of Victoria to that of British Columbia was exciting some attention.

Her Majesty's steam corvette Satellite, 21 guns, is under orders to visit Netinette Sound and punish the Indians who committed the recent piracy upon the brig Swiss Boy, if upon investigation the facts of the case are as represented.

From Fraser's River, we learn that the revenue officers had seized five or six canoes and their cargoes, bound up the river, without either a sufferance to navigate the river, or paying duty upon the goods they were carrying into British Columbia. The parties were taken to Langley.

It is said that a reserve of 400,000 acres will be made on the Forks of Thompson River, for immigrants from Oregon.

For California.—The steamship St. Louis, of the Pacific Mail Line, Capt. John McGowan, left yesterday for Aspinwall, with the California mails and about 600 passengers. Among them were Lieut. Mullen's party, who go out to make a survey of the Walla-Walla wagon-road; Capt. Hancock, Capt. Russell, and Lieut. Gregg, U. S. N. This rush of passengers is owing, it is said, not alone to the low fare now ruling, but also to the fact that a revulsion is beginning to be felt in the Pike's Peak immigration. An intelligent person who came from Illinois was asked why he did not go to Pike's Peak. His answer was, that he started for that point, but met so many returning disappointed that he changed his mind. Upon the sailing of the St. Louis, the fare by the opposition line was put up to $100 in the steerage. There is a large number of Californians in town, awaiting the sailing of the next steamer.

Fire in Broadway—Damage $12,000.—At 8½ o'clock last evening a fire broke out in the rear of the third floor of the building, No. 547 Broadway. The second, third and fourth floors are occupied by G. Herter, as furniture warerooms, and the first floor by Firth, Pond & Co., dealers in pianos and music. The firemen were quickly at the fire, and extinguished the fire before the flames had extended beyond the floor where it originated. The damage to Mr. Herter's stock is about $8,000, on which there is an insurance of $4,000 in the Firemen's Insurance Co. The loss of Firth, Pond & Co., mostly by water, is about $2,000, on which there is an insurance in the Sun Mutual, Lenox, and several other Insurance Companies. The building is owned by Childs G. Post, and is damaged about $2,000; fully insured in City Companies.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

The Fate of Mrs. Brannan.—It having been stated in the Albany papers that the body recently discovered in that city, packed in a soap-box, might possibly be the remains of the long-missing Mrs. Brannan, G. W. Matsell & Co. state that they sent one of their officers there to make a thorough investigation, and they say that from the report he has made "it appears that the entire head of the female has been stripped of hair, skin and flesh, leaving no marks by which she could be identified, except two front teeth. The hands, and the toes of the feet remain entire, but as he was unable to identify the body by them, we have telegraphed to Mrs. Brannan's brother, Dr. Crane, who is at present in Philadelphia, to return immediately to see if he can identify it. The size of the skeleton answers exactly to that of Mrs. Brannan, but a circumstance exists which tends to preclude the idea that it is the remains of that lady. The body has evidently been impregnated with a fluid for the purpose of preserving it from decay, but which did not prevent it from drying up. The left arm has been cut off with a saw, between the shoulder and elbow, which would not have been done if it had been intended for anatomical purposes."

Governors of the Alms-House.—The Board of Governors met yesterday afternoon. The weekly statement gives 7,630 as remaining in the different institutions on the 2d inst. During the week preceding, 1,507 were admitted, 29 died, 1,563 were discharged, 113 were sent to the Penitentiary, and 4 to the State Prison, showing a decrease of 202 since the date of the last statement. Various communications were read and referred. Governor Oliver offered a resolution directing the Medical Board of Bellevue Hospital to report to the Board at its next meeting the names of the visiting surgeons and physicians who have attended to their duties during the past year, and what vacancies exist at the present time in said Board. The resolution was adopted. Governor Townsend presented several petitions similar to that which was sent in some weeks ago, asking that the children under the care of the Governors, who were born Catholics, might be brought up in the Catholic persuasion. The petitions were ordered on file, and the Board adjourned until next Tuesday.

A Young Married Lady Attempts Suicide.—Just before 11 o'clock, on Monday night, a gentleman, residing in Fifth-avenue, while returning home from a visit, observed a young lady of respectable appearance seated upon the steps of the Union Club House, corner of Twenty-first-street and Fifth-avenue. Thinking she might have been taken suddenly ill, he accosted her, when she told him she had just taken laudanum for the purpose of self-destruction, and showed a vial—a two-ounce vial—the contents of which she had taken. The gentleman had her immediately taken to a drug-store, where a powerful emetic was administered and the poison removed. She said her husband deserted her four days previous, that her young child had died, and she attempted self-destruction because nothing remained worth living for. She added further, that since her husband left her she had not eaten a mouthful of food, which the physician in attendance confirmed. Her husband was sent for and soon made his appearance. He asked her, coolly, "what she had been making such a fuss for." He is the son of a well-known shipping merchant. His wife went home and he promised not to desert her.

New-York Turnverein.—The German Turners gave an exhibition last evening at the Staadt Theatre in the Bowery. The performances began at 8 P. M. The first act consisted of exercises in the Barrea and Rack, followed by a short act entitled "The Return." There was then singing by the same party, as a grand chorus. The second act was a series of amusing exercises upon the horse. This was succeeded by fencing with broad and straight swords, which greatly pleased the audience. There were also some wonderful exhibitions of muscular strength in the use of heavy weights and dumb-bells. The conclusion of the entertainment was pyramid building by about 100 persons.

The Great Billiard Match.—The Detroit papers announce the arrival in that city of Mr. Phelan, who is to play a game of billiards with Mr. Seereiter for $10,000; and the arrival of Mr. Cavanagh, who is matched against Michael Foley. They say the differences between Messrs. Phelan and Seereiter have been settled; that the playing will be in public; the tickets $5, and disposal of the proceeds to be settled by umpires after the match shall have been played. The money has been deposited for the main stake. They say that, a few days ago, Seereiter made a run at caroms of one hundred and sixty. He made a run of one hundred and twenty during his match with Barney Chrystal, which was considered the best on record.

Fire under the Franklin Museum.—About noon, yesterday, a fire broke out in the basement of the Franklin Museum, in Grand-street, near Broadway. A blacksmith shop and a saloon sustained damage to the amount of $2,500. The loss is covered by insurance. It was feared that the entire building would be consumed, but the firemen through extraordinary efforts succeeded in extinguishing the flames before the upper portion had been greatly injured.

Two Stables and three Horses burned.—At 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the stable owned by James Curry, No. 540 Ninth-avenue. Three horses were burned to death, their aggregate value being $500. They belonged to different carmen and were uninsured. The damage to the stable did not exceed $50. The flames communicated to the stable of J. Croly adjoining, and before they were extinguished effected a damage of $800 to the building and stock. No insurance.

Meeting of Journeymen Gilders.—About 20 journeymen gilders met Monday night at Mozart Hall to consider the propriety of striking for an increase of wages. It was agreed that in the present state of trade, such a course would be injudicious. The meeting was adjourned to some time in September next, when the opening of the Fall trade will render the demand for an increase and uniformity of wages more feasible.

Mr. Beecher's Lecture.—The Rev. H. W. Beecher delivers his lecture on the "Burdens of Society" at the Academy of Music to-morrow evening. Although it has been already delivered in the City, there are many who would gladly hear it again, and very many more who will embrace this opportunity to hear it for the first time.

Liquor-Dealers' Association.—The regular monthly meeting of the Liquor-Dealers' Association was held last evening at Hildebrand's, in Hester-street. The Treasurer's report was presented, and some other routine business performed, after which they adjourned.

Meeting of the Board of Councilmen.—The Board of Councilmen meets to-night instead of to-morrow evening. It is said that the Mayor will send in an important communication with reference to the measures affecting the interests of the City now under consideration at Albany.

Branch's Exhibition.—Stephen H. Branch gave another of his Blackwell Island Exhibitions last evening, in Hope Chapel, to a fair audience, and announced its repetition at the same place this evening.

LAW REPORTS.

COURT CALENDAR—Wednesday, April 6.

Superior Court—Special Term.—Nos. 22, 36, 50, 51, 52, 55, 57, 58, 60, 61, 62, 63, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72.

Circuit—Part I.—Nos. 1065, 1113, 1115, 1117, 1119, 1123, 1125, 1127, 1133, 1135, 1137, 1139, 1141, 1145, 1147, 1147½, 1149, 1151, 1153, 1155. Part II.—Nos. 974, 1054, 98, 672, 700, 530, 1066, 1068, 1070, 1072, 1074, 1076, 1078, 1080, 1084, 1088, 1090, 1092, 1094, 1096. Part III.—Nos. 1089, 1137, 1159, 1161, 1163, 1165, 1167, 1169, 1171, 1173, 1175, 1177, 1179, 1181, 1183, 1185, 1187, 1189, 1191, 1193.

Superior Court—Trial Term—Part I.—Nos. 17, 26, 27, 35, 40, 41, 49, 52, 54, 55, 58, 68, 77, 82, 83, 84, 85, 90, 91, 93, 94, 97, 98, 99.

Common Pleas—Trial Term—Part I.—Nos. 769, 850, 853, 855, 857, 858, 861, 862, 863, 865, 866, 867, 868, 843, 1306. Part II.—Nos. 880, 881, 882, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 899.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—April 5.

Before Judge Roosevelt.

DIVORCE SUIT.

Jane McKenzie vs. Alexander McKenzie.—This is an action for a limited divorce on the ground of cruel treatment. The case has already been before the Court on a motion for alimony; and the facts were reported in the Times of Feb. 11.

This morning Mr. Samuel J. Glassey, for the plaintiff, moved for leave to amend the complaint. The proposed amendments consisted in inserting a charge against the defendant of having attempted to seduce the female servants in his family. On the part of defendant affidavits were read in denial of the truth of this charge. It was also urged by Mr. McKeon, counsel for defendant, that the plaintiff's delay in making the motion was a sufficient reason for denying it, the original complaint having been served in June last.

Decision reserved.

A MOTHER CLAIMING HER CHILD.

Matter of Marian Walker.—This is a habeas corpus directed to John McGinny and Margaret his wife, requiring them to produce Marian Walker, the child of the petitioner, who bears the same name.

It appears from the return that the respondent, Margaret, was the wet nurse of the child; that she has had the entire control and custody of the child since 1850, when the mother went to California, and has received little or no compensation for its care; and that she is now willing to adopt it for her own.

The mother is, however, desirous of obtaining the child, and has given a power of attorney, and sent on a messenger from California, expressly to obtain the child and bring it out to her.

The return was not sworn to; and the counsel for the petitioner urged that it ought to be made under oath. To allow time for this the case was adjourned.

LIBEL SUIT—SINGULAR INTERROGATORIES.

Alvah Blaisdell vs. Henry J. Raymond & Co.—This is a libel suit brought against the proprietors of the Times for an article published at the time of Coroner Connery's inquest on Dr. Burdell, which reflected somewhat strongly on Dr. Blaisdell's testimony before the Coroner.

Lately the defendants' counsel has issued a commission to take the testimony of witnesses in Massachusetts, where Dr. Blaisdell formerly lived; the subject of the questions put to witness being his general reputation and standing in the community. The plaintiff objects to these inquiries as not being competent evidence in the case, and also proposes some cross-interrogations. The matter came up before the Court this morning, upon a settlement of the interrogatories. Mr. Abbott, for the defendants, read a part of the plaintiff's cross-interrogatories, in which he asked one of the witnesses "if he was not a spiritualist, and accustomed to attend spiritual meetings;" "if he did not understand what was meant by the terms 'spiritual husband' and 'spiritual wife;'" if so, requesting him to explain it; and further, asking him "if he was not a free-lover." These questions, and some others, the counsel objected to, as insulting to the witness and irrelevant to the issue in this case.

Mr. C. F. Wetmore, the counsel for the plaintiff, moved to suppress the commission altogether upon the ground that the defendants had no right to show the general bad reputation of the plaintiff, but must show that his reputation was bad in respect of the particular things charged against him in the libel. The Judge took the papers and reserved his decision.

Before Justice Clerke.

SHERIFF'S JURY.

Stephen D. Dillaye vs. Emmanuel B. Hart.—This case was mentioned in the Times, a day or two since. The action is for assault and battery. The defendant appeared, but did not answer the complaint. The plaintiff, in applying for judgment, moved the Court that the damages be assessed at the Circuit, instead of by the Sheriff's Jury. The grounds of the application were:

1. That if the damages were to be assessed by a Sheriff's Jury, the plaintiff could not have the opportunity of challenging the Jury.

2. That, as important questions of law as to the admissibility or rejection of evidence, in mitigation of damages, were likely to arise, the same should be heard by a Judicial, rather than a Ministerial officer, especially as there was reason to apprehend a political prejudice.

The following is the opinion of the Court, rendered this morning, granting the motion:

Clerke, J.—The writ of inquiry is superseded by the Code of Procedure, which directs where the action does not arise upon contract for the recovery of money only, and the defendant fails to answer, the Court, upon application for judgment—if damages for any tort are sought to be recovered—may order them to be assessed by a jury. Whether this includes a Sheriff's Jury, it is, perhaps, not necessary on this occasion to inquire. It is quite certain that the Court retains the power to have the damages assessed at the Circuit.

I am not at all afraid that the political predilections of the Sheriff would, as has been hinted, consciously or unconsciously bias his conduct in assessing the damages before a Jury of his own; but, for other reasons, I think it is expedient that the cause should be sent to the Circuit. The occurrence upon which the action is founded has produced, I am informed, some excitement in political circles; and it is very probable the question to what extent provocation may be admitted in mitigation of damages, may arise on the trial. Under such circumstances, both parties should have the benefit of all the advantages which a regular trial at the Circuit can afford; and one of the most important in a case of this nature is, that they both should have the right of challenge. The persons comprising a Sheriff's Jury cannot be challenged. The reasons assigned in the books is, because an assessment by a Sheriff's Jury is only an inquest of office, and the Sheriff does not act in a judicial capacity. (2 John. R. 91.)

Motion granted, with $10 costs, to abide event.

Dewitt C. Brown, for the plaintiff; B. Galbraith, for the defendant.

Josephine de Tancey vs. Louis de Figaniere, &c.—Case settled.

William Tucker vs. Peter Hardenbrook.—Settled; all the amendments allowed.

Edward Wirths vs. Bernard Storp et al.—Motions for injunctions and receiver denied, with $5 costs in each.

John B. Overton vs. Moody M. Hall.—Motion denied, with $5 costs.

Stephen G. Wood vs. Robert Chew et al.—Motion denied, with $5 costs.

Enos L. Conkling vs. William Tilden.—Motion granted, with $10 costs, to abide event; order to be settled on two days' notice.

Edward S. Innes, Receiver, &c., vs. Moses M. White.—The case of Nann vs. Peitz, 3 Coms. 115, controls, this motion: injunction denied, with $10 costs.

CIRCUIT.

Before the Hon. Justice Emott.

William Watson vs. Samuel Williams.—The plaintiff is the surviving partner of the firm of W. Watson & Co., which was composed of plaintiff and one Peter Van Zandt. The defendant is an attorney, who claims to have been employed by and rendered services to both Mr. Van Zandt and the firm. This action is brought to recover possession of some account books belonging to the late firm of Watson and Co. from Mr. Williams. He alleges that they were delivered into his keeping by Mr. Van Zandt; that he retains them for the benefit of his estate, which has paid more than Mr. Van Zandt's share of the debts of the firm. He also claims a lien on the books for his services as attorney. The case is still on.

A. P. Whitehead and Joseph Lovell for the plaintiff; Samuel Williams, defendant in person, and Joseph Neilson for defendant.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—April 5.

Before Justice Sutherland.

Harriet E. Eaton, Executrix, and Duncan McMartin, Executor, &c., of Daniel C. Eaton, deceased, vs. George S. Brown and Harriet E. Brown, his wife, and Daniel Cady Eaton, an infant, &c.

In countries sufficiently civilized to have money, or as currency, every value is a cash value. Money or currency is the standard of value, and is cash, and every value is a money or cash value.

Bonds, bills of exchange, stocks, &c., are either at or above or below their par or nominal value; and their par or nominal value is as much a cash value as the value at which they actually sell, or which they are worth. The testator, by the words "worth at par cash value," in the direction given to the executors in the will, to set apart $31,000 in bonds, mortgages and stocks, for his daughter Harriet, upon her arriving at the age of twenty-five years, or upon her marriage, means nothing more than "at par," or at "par value," and the word cash, and even the word worth, is mere surplusage.

The sum of $6,000, set apart by the executors conditionally, does not therefore go to the said Harriet, nor should it be held for her use, but it belongs to the residue of the estate, and goes under the will with such residue.

D. McMartin, for plaintiff; Ethan Akin, for infant D. C. Eaton.

COMMON PLEAS—Trial Term.

Before Judge Daly.

The Mayor, &c. vs. John Brite et al.—This action is brought upon a constable's official bond for $500.

The defendant was in 1856 a constable in the Eighteenth Ward, in this city. In 1857, in the performance of one of his duties, he levied an execution upon the goods of the wrong person, mistaking their ownership to be in Mr. Hattech. The injured party, Mr. Charles Brenning, brought suit against him, and obtained judgments thereon. He was not, however, successful in obtaining a settlement of his claims. He now, therefore, brings this action in the name of the Mayor upon the official bond.

The defendant's counsel have moved for a non-suit upon the grounds that the action was not brought in the name of the real party in interest; and that the complaint does not allege that the plaintiffs had suffered any damage.

B. C. Thayer for plaintiffs; W. C. Carpenter for defendant.

Special Term.

Before Judge Brady.

Thomas vs. Kenyen.—Motion granted.

Bostwick vs. Cromwell.—Decree settled.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before the Hon. Recorder Barnard.

Yesterday morning the following gentlemen were impanelled as the Grand Inquest for the April term:

Homer Franklin, Foreman; Lewis Atterbury, Jr., William Wood, Isaac H. Bailey, Fulton Cutting, Benjamin Bills, Benjamin F. Wheelwright, John H. Abeel, Charles E. Anderson, Henry B. Ellis, James H. Banker, Harrison D. Hunt, Ambrose K. Ely, Frederic R. Jenkins, Ellis B. Harned, Robert Leonard, James G. Jacobus, Alexander Rankin, David Ogden, Henry M. Terbell, James W. Underhill.

The Recorder's charge was brief, but inclusive of all the points enjoined by statute to be presented to the Grand Jury.

William Johnson and John Fletcher pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree, and were each sentenced for five years to the State Prison. John Dolan was tried on a charge of burglary, committed on the 28th January, and acquitted. Patrick Burke pleaded guilty to an assault, on John McArdle, and was remanded for sentence. Josefo Vonvosse and Antonio Ferrino, Italians, were convicted of an assault on a policeman of the Sixth Ward, in Baxter-street, on the 3d March, while he was engaged in arresting one of their countrymen, who was endeavoring to pass counterfeit money. They were remanded for sentence.

COURT OF APPEALS—April 4.

No. 439. People vs. Tibbetts.—Argued by J. Reynolds, for appellant; W. A. Beech, for respondent.

Nos. 76, 77, 97. Reserved for fourth week.

No. 39. Struck off.

No. 205. Exchanged with No. 21.

No. 65. Chapman vs. N. Y. & N. H. R. R. Co.—Argued. W. C. Noyes for appellant. Mr. Wheaton for respondent.

Calendar for April 5.—Nos. 34, 68, 364½, 48, 293½, 30½, 41, 47, 69, 70, 71, 12, 16, 205, 27, 28, 37, 46, 51, 52.

To Merchants and Commercial Travelers.—All persons who are compelled by business to make long or short journeys by water, and to go by various steamers, ships, &c., regardless of seaworthiness, but in obedience to time, should provide themselves with certain safety from death by drowning. This can be obtained an hour previous to sailing, from the Delano Life-Preserving Coat and Vest Company, which has ready-made Life-preserving Garments, (a large stock,) from which any one can be immediately fitted. This life-preserving clothing embraces every variety of style, and will suit any taste. It will be made to order, also. In view of the recklessness with which life and safety are generally sacrificed to "fast" journeys, it becomes every traveler to be provided with a safeguard that can always be worn, and that can be made infallibly serviceable in thirty seconds! Office and salesrooms No. 258 Broadway, opposite the City Hall. These life-preserving garments should be worn by everybody—even by those who only cross a river in a ferry boat.

To Dealers in and Importers of Goodyear's Vulcanized Elastic Woven Rubber Fabrics.—The trade who have so long been suffering under the illegal exactions of Horace H. Day, will be glad to learn that they can now make arrangements with me to supply themselves with these fabrics. Mr. Day has been infringing upon my rights by importing and selling these goods; and after a long trial, the questions at issue have been decided against him and in my favor by the United States Circuit Court, in New-York. The trade and the public, after this notice and caution, must abstain from violating my rights. It is necessary for my own protection, and therefore I shall proceed against future infringers in the most summary manner. I am the sole and exclusive owner of the right to make, import use and sell all elastic woven vulcanized rubber goods and fabrics and of all other elastic vulcanized rubber fabrics, except suspenders, which the Nashawannuck Manufacturing Company have the exclusive license from me to make, use and vend, and except also shirred goods. All persons who make, or import, or sell, or use any of these goods are infringers, under the Patent Laws of the United States, and liable to severe penalties. After this full notice I shall make no settlements with those who infringe upon my rights, or buy or sell these goods. I shall go back to the beginning and compel them to pay me full damages for all goods which they have sold during the past six years and I shall enjoin and prevent them from selling or using these goods for the future at all. No goods can be hereafter made, imported, sold or used legally, unless they have my stamp upon every article, and in this way the trade and the public will know that they are purchasing of authorized dealers, and that they will be protected. I am ready to make immediate arrangements on the most liberal terms with the trade generally, and with dealers in and the manufacturers of these fabrics. WILLIAM JUDSON, Catarrh! Catarrh! Catarrh!

CATARRH. WHAT IS IT? HOW CURED?

Thousands of persons suffer all sorts of annoyance from Catarrh. Most people know what its inconvenience and results are, yet but few know how it can be cured. It is simply a chronic irritation and after enlargement of follicles, and consequent thickening of the mucous membrane, lining the nasal cavities, frontal sinuses and posterior nares and sometimes extending into the throat and lungs. From this results tightness and often vertigo of the head, obstructed nose or profuse flow of mucus, loss of smell, nasal voice, and often impaired hearing and taste. The old-school remedies have never been able to do anything for it. Nasal injections and inhalations are as painful and expensive as they are generally worthless, yet Humphreys' Catarrh Specific, a simple Sugar Pill taken two or three times per day, promptly relieves the milder cases, cures at once all colds in the head, and radically cures by persevering use the most obstinate cases, as is proved by the experience of hundreds.

Price, with full directions, &c............50 cents per box

N. B.—A full set of Humphreys' Homœopathic Specifics, with Book of Directions and 20 Remedies, in large 3-drachm vials and morocco case, $5; ditto in plain case, $4; family case of 15 boxes and book $2.

The Remedies, by the single box or full case, sent to any address by mail or express, free of charge, on receipt of the price. Address F. HUMPHREYS & CO.,

Dyspepsia and Fits.

DR. O. PHELPS BROWN,

THE GREAT CURER OF CONSUMPTION, was for several years so badly afflicted by Dyspepsia, that for a part of the time he was confined to his bed. He was eventually cured by a prescription furnished him by a young clairvoyant girl. This prescription, given him by a mere child, while in a state of trance has cured everybody who has taken it, never having failed once. It is equally as sure in cases of Fits as of Dyspepsia. The ingredients may be found in any drug store. I will send this valuable prescription to any person on the receipt of one stamp to pay postage. Address DR. O. PHELPS BROWN,

INTERESTING

TO

REAL ESTATE OWNERS.

IT IS THE PURPOSE OF

JERVIS' INFORMATION EXCHANGE

To keep, eventually, a complete register of all real estate in the market, and to improve greatly on the present system of real estate brokerage, by bringing the principals, if required, immediately face to face, and not keep them apart, as is too often the case at present. This, with other reforms much needed, (as every property owner knows,) will be brought about by

JERVIS' INFORMATION EXCHANGE.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO REGISTER REAL ESTATE at this institution; and by doing a large business, with a large connection, the commissions on property sold will be greatly reduced, and its advantage as a place of reference, where the particulars of the great mass of real estate changing hands can be obtained, will be fully felt.

Already a large amount of City and country property has been registered, and many eligible investments offered.

The demand is constantly and largely increasing for these tables and cushions, and we have been obliged to increase our facilities for manufacturing. And now we employ in our establishment more men than are engaged in all similar establishments in the United States combined. None but the best mechanics are employed, and the finest materials are exclusively used. The utmost care is used in every branch, and prompt attention paid to orders received by mail.

Mr. Phelan's constant attention is given to the improvement of everything connected with billiards, and five patents have been issued to protect the improvements made; the latest dated

NOVEMBER THE 16TH, 1858.

Purchasers are cautioned that the tables or cushions can be purchased only from the patentee,

THE REV. GEO. B. CHEEVER, D.D.—DEAR SIR: We, your fellow-citizens, have been deeply interested in those especial labors in which you have been prominently engaged during the last two or three years with reference to American Slavery. Without having heard or carefully read all you have preached or written on this subject, we know generally that your labors have eminently tended to establish these truths: First, that the Word of God in no degree countenances any system, usage or institution essentially resembling that Slavery which exists throughout a large portion of our own country; secondly, that Christianity is essentially, vitally, irreconcilably at war with such Slavery, and that any true and pure Church is necessarily its antagonist; thirdly, that it is the imperative duty of the organized Christianity of our land to war against such Slavery, systematically, untiringly uncompromisingly, so long as the iniquity shall continue to exist. We, therefore, in testimony of our profound appreciation of your labors and sacrifices in the cause of Christian Purity and National Righteousness, respectfully invite you to repeat, at such early day as your convenience may suggest, one or more of your recent discourses on the subjects just indicated, in the great hall of the Cooper Institute, where some thousands of our fellow-citizens may share with us the interest and profit of hearing you.

We are, with profound esteem, yours,

New-York, April 1, 1859.

Messrs. Horace Greeley, John Jay and others.

Gentlemen: I am truly grateful for this kind invitation, and rejoice in the opportunity of acknowledging it, were it only to signify my hearty and hopeful recognition of its principles, so admirably expressed. I am sure that, if we can get at the masses with the testimony of the Word of God against the iniquity of Slavery, it will soon be swept from the land. I shall be most happy to respond to this request in one or more lectures, as may be thought best, commencing Wednesday evening, April 6. Most respectfully and truly yours,

GEORGE B. CHEEVER.

In accordance with the terms of the foregoing correspondence, the Rev. GEORGE B. CHEEVER, D.D., will deliver a discourse upon The Logic of the Word of God against Slavery as Man-Stealing, in the great Hall of the Union, Cooper Institute, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, April 6, at 7½ o'clock.

SOYER'S SULTANA'S SAUCE.—This most delicious condiment, so universally approved of for hot or cold dishes of all kinds, was originally manufactured by the renowned Soyer for the "Reform Club," of London. It is now made by the well-known house of Crosse & Blackwell, the former agents of Mons. Soyer, who are the sole proprietors of the original recipe. The following journals have bestowed the highest encomiums on this sauce:

COUNTRY RESIDENCES.

A COUNTRY RESIDENCE, WITH RARE SURROUNDINGS.—An opportunity is afforded to any gentleman wishing to possess a country residence with unusual attractions, and with all the advantages of many years' culture and improvement.

The place is within an hour of the City by rail, and by either of two roads is accessible, at almost any hour of the day, affording the gentleman of business or leisure every advantage of suburban or City life. The location is entirely healthy, and a delightful region of country, and affording every facility for boating and fishing, as well as driving, shooting, &c.

The mansion is spacious and convenient, situated in a lawn of 20 acres. There are two suites of large parlors, dining-room, library and billiard-room on the first floor, surrounded with spacious piazzas; all the rooms below and above commanding extensive landscape and water views, unsurpassed in beauty. A venerable grove of several acres, skirting the lawns, contains some of the proudest monarchs of the forest.

A continuous drive of several miles through the lawns, cultivated fields, shady groves, across running streams and through rocky glens, allows the best facilities for carriage exercise and equestrian sports, while it discovers the finest features of the beautiful and the picturesque.

The present owner has devoted several years to the collection of rare plants, shrubbery and fruits. Several acres are devoted to gardens. The granery and plant-houses are stocked with the choicest varieties. All the new kinds of hardy grapes, the choicest pears and small fruits are in continuous succession and profusion. The orchards are extensive, and in their prime.

The barns, carriage and ice-houses, farmer's and gardener's residences, &c., are all arranged in exclusion from the mansion.

A portion of the grounds might be subdivided into several sites for villa residences, each having charming prospects, without invading the retirement and integrity of the present arrangement.

The place will be sold much below its real value, and the terms of purchase made easy. The owner leaves it with the view of spending some time in foreign travel, and will give possession immediately.

A fine collection of choice stock, horses, carriages, wagons, farm implements, furniture, (in good order,) &c., may be included in the purchase.

For further particulars, apply to
HOMER MORGAN, No. 3 Pine-st.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS.—OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF TAXES AND ASSESSMENTS, No. 32 Chamber-st., New-York, Jan. 10, 1859.—Notice is hereby given that the Assessment Rolls of Real and Personal Estate in the City of New-York for the year 1859 are now open for public inspection, and will continue open until the 30th day of April next, inclusive. All tax-payers are earnestly requested to call and examine the same, in order that any errors in the assessments may be corrected. Also, all persons entitled by law to reduction of their assessments, by reason of being clergymen or for military services; and also literary and charitable institutions, by law exempt from taxation, are requested to make application for such reduction or exemption, previous to the closing of the rolls on said 30th day of April.

The following section of the act of April 16, 1857, is published for the information of tax-payers:

SEC. 12. During the time the books shall be open to public inspection, as hereinbefore provided, application may be made by any person considering himself aggrieved by the assessed valuation of his real or personal estate, to have the same corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of real estate, it must be made in writing, stating the ground of objections thereto, and thereupon the Commissioners shall examine into the complaint, and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected. If such application be made in relation to the assessed valuation of personal estate, the applicant shall be examined under oath by the said Commissioners or any of them, and if, in their judgment, the assessment is erroneous, they shall cause the same to be corrected, and declare their decision thereon within thirty days after such application shall have been made to them. No reduction shall be made by the Board of Supervisors of any assessment on real or personal estate imposed under this act, unless it shall appear, under oath or affirmation, that the party aggrieved was unable to attend within the period prescribed for the correction of taxes, by reason of sickness or absence from the City.—Laws of 1857, page 800.

J. W. ALLEN,
A. J. WILLIAMSON,
J. W. BROWN,
Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments.

CENTRAL PARK UNPAID ASSESSMENTS.—NOTICE TO OWNERS OF PROPERTY.—The owners of property assessed for Central Park are hereby notified that the said assessments are expected to be paid on or before May 5, 1859, with 7 per cent. interest from Feb. 5, 1856, the date of confirmation by the Supreme Court; and unless said assessments are paid by May 5 next, the assessment list will be sent to the Clerk of Arrears, when INTEREST WILL BE CHARGED AT THE RATE OF TWELVE PER CENT. PER ANNUM from the date of confirmation. The property assessed is embraced in the following limits, viz.: All those pieces of land situated in the said City, bounded and described as follows: that is to say, on the north by the centre line of the blocks between 116th and 117th sts.; on the south by the centre line of the blocks between 41st and 42d sts.; on the east by the centre line of the blocks between 2d and 3d avs.; on the west by the centre line of the blocks between 10th and 11th avs.; and also all those certain other lots, pieces and parcels of land fronting on either side of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th avs., between 116th and 120th sts.; and all those certain other lots, pieces and parcels of land fronting on either side of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th avs., and Broadway, between 33d and 42d sts., as laid out on the map of the Commissioners, on file in this office.

Terms moderate.

HUNDREDS OF THE UNFORTUNATE are disappointed of a cure by not calling on DR. HUNTER at first, the Hunterian Dispensary, No. 3 Division st., New-York City. Established in 1834, for the Preservation of Human Life. PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—Dr. HUNTER has for thirty years confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated not less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; it roots out the poisonous taint the blood is sure to absorb unless this remedy is used. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division st. Book for nothing, that treats of the evil effects of early abuse and indulgence, is embellished with elaborate colored engravings, portraying every feature and phase of disease, exposes the fallacy of the ordinary modes adopted for the cure of local as well as hereditary maladies, and gives the only safe and infallible remedy for expunging every trace of the virus from the system.

DR. WATSON HAS, FOR A LONG SERIES of years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated a vast number of cases with a success which has won for him the confidence of the public. The remedies are mild, and there is no interruption to business. Dr. WATSON receives patients in separate consulting rooms from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M., at No. 459 Broome-st., second block west of Broadway.

Dr. WATSON'S Work, THE CAUSE AND CURE, issued simultaneously in London and New York, is the only one which clearly explains the nature and mode of treatment of the VENEREAL DISEASE in all its different forms, and treats also in full of SPERMATORRHŒA, the result of early indiscretion, excess, or other causes. Anatomical plates of a superior kind, and drawings of every form of disease. Price, $1, post-paid. "Dr. Watson's Work has been written by a person of great practical knowledge, and we cordially recommend it."—Medical Journal. Sold by the Author, as above; also by CONFIDENTIAL MEDICAL AND SURGICAL CONSULTATIONS.—Dr. COBBETT can be consulted with confidence on private diseases, at his old established office, No. 19 Duane-st., opposite Chatham Bank. Dr. C. has practised as above for over 27 years, and has treated with success cases which had been given up and considered incurable by Physicians of respectable standing in the profession. Stricture and nervous debility treated on an entirely new plan. N. B.—Dr. C. is a member of the New-York University Medical College and College of Surgeons, London. His diplomas from each of the above institutions may be seen in his office. The victims of misplaced confidence, or those who have been deceived by quack advertisements, nostrums, &c., &c., can call on him with the certainty of being honorably treated.

DR. MORAND'S ANTIDOTE—A SPECIFIC REMEDY.—This valuable remedy expels the virus effectually, and permanently eradicates the disease from the system, in most cases effecting a radical cure in a few days. The antidote is also a perfect prophylactic if taken whenever danger is apprehended. No change of diet or interruption of business is necessary. It is purely vegetable and does not injure the health or constitution. Price $1 per bottle. BARNES & PARK, No. 13 Park-row, general agents. Sold at the drug stores Nos. 10 Astor House and 417 Broadway, corner of Canal-st., corner Hudson and Spring sts., and Bowery and Grand-st.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.—QUERU'S COD Liver Oil Jelly, approved by the New York Academy of Medicine, is the only one containing 85 per cent. of oil. No imitation contains as much oil as mine, though some are boldly advertised as containing as much as 90 per cent.

Also, American and Norwegian Cod Liver Oil in the liquid state. E. QUERU, No. 135 4th-av., New-York.

Also, for sale at DELLUC & CO.'S, T. T. GREEN'S, Nos. 635 and 862 Broadway, and all respectable Druggists.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, VERMONT CENTRAL RAILROAD COMPANY.—STATE OF VERMONT, IN CHANCERY, CHITTENDEN COUNTY. —Lawrence Brainerd and George M. Dexter, Surviving Trustees, et als., vs. The Vermont Central Railroad Company, et als.—Upon hearing in the above-entitled cause, upon bill, answer, traverse and testimony, it is ordered that said cause be referred to Charles Russell, of Burlington, as Special Master, and also to George S. Hale, of Boston, Massachusetts, as Special Commissioner, to act in that State, to ascertain and report, severally and respectively, as far as evidence shall be offered for that purpose, who may be at the time of the hearings before them, as hereinafter provided, the owners respectively of the first mortgage bonds, so called, of the Vermont Central Railroad, mentioned in the bill, the place of residence of such owners, and how much is due to each upon such bonds at the time of such hearings, or upon the interest thereon, and how much will grow due thereon, thereafter, and when; and report to this Court thereon, the names of said bondholders so presenting their claims and the several amounts thereof respectively.

And it is by said Court hereby further ordered that all owners and holders of said bonds so-called, do severally present their said claims upon, and in respect thereto, before said Master or Commissioner for allowance and report, at the time and place to be by them respectively appointed, as hereinafter provided, and in default thereof they will be subject to such further order as this Court may make in the premises, in respect to their said unpresented claims being barred, and otherwise.

And it is hereby further ordered, by said Court, that said Master (Russell) will also ascertain and report how much the value of the property, covered by said mortgage has been enhanced, since it came into the hands of, and has been held by, the Trustees under said mortgage, by an appropriation of the earnings of said property, covered by said mortgage, for that purpose; and whether the Trustees under said mortgage have been guilty of waste in respect to said property, and if so, which of said Trustees, and to what extent, and in what respect, and whether before or after the breach of the condition of said mortgage, by the non-payment of interest on said bonds so-called.

And it is further ordered that said Master and Commissioner respectively give notice of the time and place of said hearings before them, by causing notice thereof to be published once in each week for the space of ninety days before such time of hearing, in the following named newspapers to wit: The Burlington Weekly Times, the Vermont Watchman and State Journal, printed at Montpelier, Vt.; the Boston Daily Post, printed at Boston, in the State of Massachusetts; the New-York Daily Times, printed in the City of New-York; and the United States Gazette, printed in the city of Philadelphia.

And it is ordered that said cause stand over until the coming in of said reports for further directions therein without prejudice to either party.

And it is ordered, also, that either party may read, on the hearing before said Master and Commissioner, the evidence already on file in said cause, and may adduce such further evidence as may be material to the questions hereby referred.

Done in Court this 13th day of December, A. D. 1858.

THE STOCKHOLDERS AND CREDITORS of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company, Eastern Division, are hereby notified that at a meeting of the Trustees named in the Agreement of Dec. 15, 1858, duly held at their office No. 68 Wall-st. March 18, 1859, the following Preamble and Resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, The Agreement of Dec. 15, 1858, has been subscribed by only a portion of the parties whose signatures thereto are essential, in order to carry into effect the primary and main purposes contemplated thereby; and

Whereas, It is important to determine at an early day whether such primary and main purposes of said Agreement can or can not be consummated; therefore, it is

Resolved, By the Trustees, pursuant to the authority given by the Tenth Article of said Agreement, that from and after the FIRST DAY OF MAY NEXT, the right of any and of all parties to subscribe to said Agreement of Dec 15, 1858, or any of its counterparts, shall cease and terminate, except upon and with the unanimous consent of said Trustees, as provided in the said Tenth Article thereof.

Resolved further, That the Trustees will, on or after the first day of May next, determine whether or not said Agreement of Dec. 15, 1858 has then been subscribed by the parties essential to give effect to, and to consummate its primary and main purposes as therein declared.

Resolved further, That the Trustees publish a notice of the above Preamble and Resolutions, in accordance with the Seventeenth Article of said Agreement.

Resolved further, That the Trustees will, unitedly and earnestly make all fair and honorable efforts to procure, before the FIRST DAY OF MAY NEXT, the signatures of parties necessary to consummate and carry into effect the primary and main purposes of said Agreement, believing, as they do, that the consummation of said purposes, as therein declared, is essential to secure and protect the interests of all the Creditors and Stockholders of the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company, Eastern Division, and to prevent a foreclosure of the mortgages on the corporate property and franchises of that Company.

For further and additional information, apply at the offices of the Company, at Cincinnati, and No. 68 Wall-st., New-York.—Dated, March 18 1859. (Signed.)

The later news from Europe by the screw-steamer New-York this morning, influenced an active business on the Stock Exchange at the early Board, and advanced Cotton ⅛@¼ cent. and sales to the extent of nearly 5,000 bales. Politically the accounts are considered the most pacific we have had for a month or so, and it now transpires that they had already been anticipated by certain parties on the London Exchange the evening before the Persia sailed. The Funds on Thursday, March 17, were 95½; on Friday, late in the day, 96@96½; on Tuesday, March 22, as now advised by the New-York, 96⅜@96½ ₩ cent. The Liverpool Cotton trade was helped by the same cause, and this, together with the advices from this side to the 10th March, of decreasing receipts, gave a business of 22,000 bales in two days at a rise of 1-16d.@⅛d. Provisions were also steadier, and in London, Wheat was a shade firmer. The English Railways and the French Funds participated in the political improvement. The following is the latest in American Railways:

Our own market for Stocks, after opening with a good degree of activity and firmness, closed, through the continued pressure of time contracts for the Bear account, quite irregular in prices, and with an unsettled tone, except on State Stocks and some of the Railway Bonds, which command outside attention to an extent that neutralizes opposition. For Missouris 88@88⅛ ₩ cent. was paid, cash, and some parcels taken on time at 87⅞@88, carrying under the rule of the Stock Board, 6 ₩ cent. interest, while the cash Stock, if bought for speculation, is hypothecated at 4@5 ₩ cent. per annum. Tennessees advanced to 93½. And $300,000 new North Carolinas were taken at Raleigh yesterday by Messrs. F. P. JAMES & Co., on orders for western banking, at 97⅞@98, the money to be paid in New-York. The Southern bidders paid from 98 to 101 for $200,000, the remainder of the loan, the money to be placed in Raleigh. The difference in exchange is ¾@1 ₩ cent. The old Bonds sold this afternoon at 10¼, including interest from 1st January. A sale of $50,000 United States Fives of 1874 was made at 104⅛ ₩ cent. Illinois Central Bonds brought 88⅞ ex-dividend; Hudson Thirds, 77⅞. We should have mentioned yesterday that the Erie Fourth Mortgages are now sold ex-dividend, the 1st April coupon being off.

On the Share list the contest against New-York Central continues animated, and the decline since early last week, under the heavy speculative sales based on the new disposition of the management of the Spring and Summer traffic, brought forward to-day a large number of country orders from along the line of the Road, to buy. At the same time the supply of certificates on the Street is apparently no easier than before the fall in price. The various transactions to-day are not much short of 8,000 shares. At one time the difference made between cash stock and seller 3 days, was ½ ₩ cent. in favor of the former, and ⅜@½ ₩ cent. against 60-day sellers. The prices of the day were 76@76¼@76½@76 for immediate delivery, closing after the printed list in the afternoon, 76@75⅞ ₩ cent., the same as yesterday. In Harlem Preferred Shares the business was large and prices higher, closing 41⅛@¼. Also in Michigan Guaranteed at 40⅞@40½ ₩ cent. cash, and 40⅞ short seller. Panama advanced to 118⅞ cash; and Hudson River to 34. Pacific Mail, 78½@79 cash, with some time sales at 77½@78, option to the seller. The Western Stocks and Reading were generally firm in the forenoon, and steady at the close.

The market for money is very quiet. The rates undergo scarcely the slightest variation from 4@5 ₩ cent. at call, and 5@7 ₩ cent. as the range for discounts, first-class paper. Exchange closed for the Boston mail, early in the day, 109⅝ @109⅞ on London, only a moderate business for this opportunity. The Customs fell off to $54,000 to-day. The whole transactions at the Sub-Treasury are, inward, $148,563; outward, $203,889 balance, $7,538,198.

Messrs. WRIGHT & Co., in their weekly circular remark:

"Receipts for the week amount to 71,000, against 100,000 bales in the same week last year. The excess is consequently reduced 29,000 bales, and now stands at 814,000 bales as compared with last year. The receipts at Charleston and Savannah are large, but they are kept up, as we have before remarked, at the expense of the stocks in the interior. At New-Orleans, for a week later, we have receipts of 22,900 bales against 40,000 bales same week last year; and at Mobile, 8,500 bales, against 12,000 in the corresponding week last season."

The March earnings of the Michigan Southern road are reported to be $11,000 less than in 1858:

BANKING AND FINANCIAL ADVERTISEMENTS

☞ SIGHT AND TIME BILLS, on all the Southern cities, purchased by DUNCAN, SHERMAN & Co.
SEPT. 24, 1858.

GENERAL MARKETS.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, April 5, 1859—6 P.M.

The reported receipts of the principal kinds of Produce since our last, have been 80 bbls. Ashes, 8,247 bbls. Flour, 700 bags Corn Meal, 400 bushels Wheat, 18,467 bushels Corn, 1,054 bushels Oats, 629 pkgs. Provisions, and 258 bbls. Whisky.

ASHES—Pots are in fair request at $6; Pearls sell slowly at $5 87½ ₩ 100 ℔s.

COFFEE—Laguayra has been in active demand, chiefly for export, and sales have been reported of 5,120 bags, part at 11⅞c.@12c., but mainly on terms not disclosed. The transactions in other kinds comprise 100 bags Maracaibo at 12½c., and 800 bags Rio at 10⅜c.@10¾c. ₩ ℔. Stock of all kinds in first and speculators' hands, this morning, 87,156 packages, including, according to Messrs. WM. SCOTT & SON, 52,017 mats and 4,175 bags Java, 16,770 bags Rio, 7,463 bags Maracaibo, 2,400 bags Laguayra, 2,200 bags Manila, 1,075 bags St. Domingo and 1,056 bags Jamaica.

BARK—Sales in Philadelphia, 120 hhds. No. 1 Quercitron, chiefly at $35 ₩ ton.

COTTON—Has been more sought after to day, and for lots, in transitu, a shade firmer prices have been obtained. The day's sales reach 5,400 bales, chiefly in transitu. We quote lots here at 12⅜c. for Middling Upland, 12⅝c.@12¾c. for Middling Gulf; proportionate rates for other grades, ₩ ℔.

FLOUR AND MEAL—The market is quite depressed to-day for nearly all kinds of State and Western Flour. Holders appear to be generally anxious to sell, at even lower prices. The demand, however, is not active, being mainly for home use. Unsound Flour is more sought after, chiefly for shipment to the British Provinces. Sales have been reported to-day of 8,600 bbls.

Southern Flour is in limited demand at drooping rates; sales 1,000 bbls., in lots, at $6 10@$6 60 for low fancy to very choice extra brands, ₩ bbl. Canadian continues scarce and inactive, at $6 50@$7 50 for extra, ₩ bbl. A lot of 107 bbls. Superfine was bought for reshipment to Canada, at $5 35 ₩ bbl. Rye Flour is selling, in lots, at $3 70@$4 50 for fine to superfine, ₩ bbl. Corn Meal is in moderate request, at $3 80@$4 for Jersey; $4 30@$4 40 for Brandywine, ₩ bbl.; and $19 50@$20 for the latter, in puncheons.

GRAIN—Wheat continues very dull. Buyers and sellers differ widely about prices. The demand is very tame. Sales have been confined to small lots, including prime White Kentucky, at $1 87; and Red Southern, at $1 52½ ₩ bushel. Corn is more freely offered than it is needed, hence prices are lower and declining; sales 18,000 bushels, at 84c.@88c. for unsound to prime new yellow Jersey and Southern; 88c.@89c. for poor to prime new White Jersey and Southern; and, nominally, 87c.@88c. for old mixed Western, ₩ bushel. Rye is inactive, and somewhat nominal at from 85c.@91c. for poor to very choice, ₩ bushel. Sales 3,500 bushels. Barley is quiet and languid. Sales 12,000 bushels State, in lots, at 65c.@80c. ₩ bushel. Oats are depressed and drooping; Canada, 59c.@61c.; Western 58c.@60c.; State, 55c.@57c.; Jersey and Pennsylvania, 50c.@54c.; Southern at 49c.@53c. ₩ bushel.

HOPS—The demand is restricted; prices are unchanged. Crop of 1858, 10c.@18c.; old, 2½c.@5c. ₩ ℔.

HAY—Sales 650 bales North River at 55c.@70c., ₩ 100 ℔s.

HIDES—Are moderately inquired for at previous figures.

IRON—Has been sparingly dealt in at irregular prices.

LEAD—Is inactive and depressed.

LIME—Rockland, 70c. for Common, and 90c. for Lump ₩ bbl.

MOLASSES—Sales, to-day, 300 bbls. New-Orleans at 30c.; 50 hhds. Porto Rico on terms not ascertained; a cargo (equal to 500 hhds.) of Cuba Muscovado at 27c.; also, by auction, 10 hhds. damaged Porto Rico at 21½c.@23½c.; and 60 hhds. do. Cuba Muscovado, at 21c.@24c. ₩ gallon. Also, privately, 35 tcs Cuba Honey, free, at 75c. ₩ gallon.

PROVISIONS—Pork is in demand and is firmer. Sales have been reported since our last of 2,600 bbls., at $17 80@$17 87½ for new Mess, here; $18 for do., deliverable in May and June; $17 50 for old Mess; and $12 60@$12 70 for Prime, ₩ bbl. Cut Meats are in better request, partly for export, including Hams, at 8¾c.@9½c.; Sides, 8¼c.@8½c., and Shoulders, at 6½c.@7c. ₩ ℔. Bacon continues quiet, at from 8½c. @11c. ₩ ℔. Lard is in demand, at, however, declining prices. Sales reached 800 tcs. and bbls., in lots, at 10⅞c.@11⅛c. ₩ ℔. MISCELLANEOUS.

MORE TO BE ADMIRED THAN THE RICHEST DIADEM
EVER
WORN BY KINGS OR EMPERORS.

WHAT? WHY A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR.
Because it is the ornament God Himself provided for all our race. Reader, although the rose may bloom ever so brightly in the glowing cheek, the eye be ever so sparkling, the teeth be those of pearls, if the head is bereft of its covering, or the hair be snarled and shriveled, harsh and dry, or worse still, if sprinkled with gray, nature will lose more than half her charms. Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, if used two or three times a week, will restore and permanently secure to all such an ornament. Read the following and judge. The writer of the first is the celebrated Pianist, Thalberg:

NEW-YORK, April 19, 1858.

DR. WOOD—Dear Sir: Permit me to express to you the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your "Hair Restorative" it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. I am, dear Sir, yours truly,
S. THALBERG.

DRYCH A'R GWYLIEDYDD.
WELSH NEWSPAPER OFFICE.
No. 13 NASSAU-ST., April 12, 1858.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some month or six weeks ago I received a bottle of your Hair Restorative and gave it to my wife, who concluded to try it on her hair, little thinking at the time that it would restore the gray hair to its original color, but to her as well as my surprise, after a few weeks' trial it has performed that wonderful effect by turning all the gray hairs to a dark brown, at the same time beautifying and thickening the hair. I strongly recommend the above Restorative to all persons in want of such a change of their hair.
CHARLES CARDEW.

NEW-YORK, July 25, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: With confidence do I recommend your Hair Restorative, as being the most efficacious article I ever saw. Since using your Hair Restorative my hair and whiskers which were almost white have gradually grown dark; and I now feel confident that a few more applications will restore them to their natural color. It also has relieved me of all dandruff and unpleasant itching, so common among persons who perspire freely.
J. G. KILBY.

PROF. WOOD: About two years ago my hair commenced falling off and turning gray; I was fast becoming bald, and had tried many Remedies to no effect. I commenced using your Restorative in January last. A few applications fastened my hair firmly. It began to fill up, grow out, and turned back to its former color, (black.) At this time it is fully restored to its original color, health and appearance, and I cheerfully recommend its use to all.
CHICAGO, Ill., May 1, 1857. J. D. HOES.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz.: Large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for $1 per bottle; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2 per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

HYATT'S PATENT LIGHTS.
A CARD HAVING BEEN ISSUED TO THE PUBLIC

By parties who frankly confess that they do not pay me for my invention, I avail myself of this opportunity to advertise the names of those who do. The following persons, only, are licensed under my patents in this City:
George R. Jackson & Co.
J. B. & W. W. Cornell & Co.
S. B. Althause & Co.
Ingalls & Case.
Theodore Hyatt.

The law is, that a person who purchases or uses a patented article is equally liable for infringement with the maker of it. The "makers" having fairly notified the "users" of their intention not to pay, the "users" have only themselves to blame if I collect my tariff of them—as I shall certainly do. THADDEUS HYATT.
New-York, January, 1859.

LEONARD & JACKSON'S
"PATENT LIGHTS."
A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

Having been creditably informed that persons have on one or more occasions endeavored to injure our business by false and malicious statements to the effect that the vault light which we manufacture and sell is an infringement of letters patent granted to Mr. Thaddeus Hyatt, we hereby notify those persons to desist from such defamatory statements, as we shall hold them personally responsible for damages.

Letters patent for the vault light which we are manufacturing was granted June 29, 1858, and, should it be questioned, we are fully prepared to defend our rights in the premises, and to show that we are not infringing upon the rights of Mr. Hyatt or any one else.
